TALK OF THE TOWN

(Continued from Page One) every other such organization in this State will have its part this year in harvesting a crop. Back in the days of our grandfathers when a barn was to be built the neighbors had a barn-raising. I am convinced that spirit still survives in the country. All it needs is a clear call to action. This war is making us all realize our interdependence. It is something that goes far beyond the simple relationship of rural neighbors. One of those foxes that got away from the McIntyre Fox Farm ran ahead of Daniel Allen's car for about 20 rods in the town of Martinsburg this afternoon about 3:30.
