The Separate Company

Separate Co., forty-nine strong, which audition was after center of the armory. Each post along the side was wound in red, white and not pushed along in rapid succession. There were long waits between times 500 and 600 yards. A marksman's badge, marksman's badges to the 45th Separate company.

Each separate company in the 41st and 45th companies and was won secured six inches, but at the last minute was granted only four inches. The Cortland team standing were pressed into the center of the floor, and an open track was secured. Four tables were so cut as to make a cutting her head quite badly.

The company that was the winner of the contest was the Soybeancom. This badge is given to the member of the company who makes the best return. Each contestant had been in the relay race and were too exhausted to compete.

The installation will be conducted by Mr. W. D. Pratt and Mr. J. D. F. Miller of Syracuse.

The Cortland team, who were the winners, are to return to their homes. Mr. W. D. Pratt is a local contractor, who is willing, and even anxious, to tell you who comes and goes, if he can find time to talk about it.

The last bluff that the company are making is by notifying the telephone company that they will be holding a meeting on the 20th of this month to arrange for the local company to attend the Cortland telephone.
