THE BUFFALO CRITERION
PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT 420 WILLIAM ST.
BUFFALO 6, N. Y.

FRANK E. MERRIWEATHER.....EDITOR
& PUBLISHER

Address all communications to The Buffalo Criterion
Editorial Phone — TL 8-3093 TT 5-0870 Evening
Items must reach The Buffalo Criterion not later than Monday noon for publication of that week.
Dates: Less Than $4.32; Six Months, $2.50
Second Class Postage Paid at Buffalo, New York

LIFTING UP ALL OUR PEOPLE

Today, it is generally agreed that Negroes in America have more freedom than ever before. It is also charged that many double standards exist. Today, added to this, it is said that Black leaders can do much to help the Rights cause.

To a great degree, all of these statements are truthful. However, during a time when money, income, material goods, individual opportunity, etc., are no nonsense with men, women and youths, it is extremely difficult to convey wisdom, understanding, experience, morals, ethics, and reason during this type of era, which is not normal.

The following statement was published in a local daily: "Here is the black life-way at best friend, when his growing boys break liquor store windows, pick guns and set fire to his slums, they kill rats, not people."

Today, in proportion to their affluence, Negroes invest money in their arena in any kind of civil rights, educational or community movements, therefore, it is hard to point an accusing finger when so many lack confidence in each other, lack cohesion, community pride, planning, desires and conceptions.

In order to accomplish the "lifting up of our people," it is going to require interest, desire, voluntary work and a bringing together in the thinking of our people. Some most integration is actually done on a quota basis, except for monetary reasons, it tends to promote separatism, as do the establishments of more and more civil rights groups which usually receive the largest amount of financial support from the whites.

"If our 22,000,000 Negroes are ever to become "equal" in our modish society, they are going to have to do it by lifting all from the quick sands of neglect, and make everyone responsible spiritually, mentally and physically as the whites have, in many cases, that's not a long haul," according to the daily's column.

In the case of the previous quotation of "weak liquor store windows, this was [illegible] several years ago and this type of business was the first to fix guards to their store windows, steel doors, followed by clothing establishments.

Today, windows of every type business are boarded by Negroes and whites, are smashed. This is an up-dated fact.

Moreover, today the trend of emphasis seems to be placed on integrated education and housing and this take, away the concentration from the solution of the problem required to "do it by lifting all our people from the quick sands of neglect."

Unless the last phrase becomes the real goal of our race, the present pattern keeps the race question in an explosive situation, and plays right into the hands of white so-called "big brother" movements that use the race issue to further their own purposes and goals. Experienced race leaders have always aware

LIFTING UP—See page 6

QUOTATIONS, With A Meaning

From Various Authors
By ALEX. HAGGINS

"The path to economy is economy of expense and revenue. God's children have no interest in putting one from the other." • • •

"Obedience is the pathway to clearer light to the spiritual truths, and to the holiest experiences." • • •

"He is never weary of the prayers of the upright, but soon weary of the constant sacrifice of the wicked." • • •

"God teaches us by little success" rather than too much, and ministers to us by little hands, that we seldom associate with the almighty arms of God." • • •

"Obedience is the pathway to clearer light to the spiritual truths, and to the holiest experiences." • • •

"He is never weary of the prayers of the upright, but soon weary of the constant sacrifice of the wicked." • • •

"God teaches us by little success" rather than too much, and ministers to us by little hands, that we seldom associate with the almighty arms of God." • • •

"Obedience is the pathway to clearer light to the spiritual truths, and to the holiest experiences."

Managing Your Money

by Edward M. Donohue
New York State Bankers Association

2nd Edition of Financial Song

[illegible] save saved 6.5% of your take home pay, you can [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ...