... Every question about Junior Max eliposes, provides a question.

Q. Can we fully Spanish-ize Columbus Day?

When the house has dried, bend over and look for your toes. After you find them, stand up straight and blow as your face, raising the lower arm. They will be your starting mark.

Q. Have any Dissenting Democrats been heard from for August? I was a great issue in my mouth, but I haven't heard a word. Is it safe to say that they've gone to their different shades of purple mountains' majesty for the duel?

A. Fielding is a possibility for excitement but very often it's a substitute for a good time. Why not try trying some of barbra streisand's favorite things, like raindrops on roses and whiskers on kittens? Or, if you're pressed for time, you can just go on wrong, you know, like the song from the play, which, by the way, is based on Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing."

Horton Backs Nat'l. Plan For Flood Insurance

Washington — Congressman Frank Horton has sponsored legislation which would require all properties protected by federally financed or guaranteed mortgages to be covered in flood prone areas to be insured for flood damage.

"Many of homeowners who are victims of the floods caused by Agnes, are facing financial disaster because they do not have insurance," Horton pointed out. "Confronted with an immediate need for large sums of money to replace their homes and belongings, they have absolutely no means to prevent the consequences." Horton added that private insurance companies are reportedly unwilling to write flood insurance for already existing homes until it is secured.

Mayor Stephen May Becks VISTA Program

Mayor Stephen May has requested that backing for VISTA volunteers be continued, and has called for more action on legislation and federal funding for the anti-poverty program in his original form with a 6% increase over last year's budget.

The Mayor noted that the identity of the VISTA program, originally established to organize the poor into self-help groups, has deteriorated into a service and executive perspectivation which
