

THE ROUND TABLE

Nov. 19, 1892. $1.00 A YEAR.

Published by the Round Table Publishing Company. J. Higgins, H. Hoeter.

...the Union... a fashion magazine... we ventured to predict...

...the World's Fair... the public... too much rapacity... too little of...

...the feeling of disgust after... the convention in June... the celebration exercises...

...the part of forty-one out of... the directors, in spite of writ... from millions of people...

...the law of Congress... accompanied a gift worth five... dollars, the determination...

...the grounds, but not suggesting... any plan which would forbid them to collect...

...the money-making... scheme, it means extra work for... thousands of railroad men...

...the price of liberty, and no one can afford... not to use his influence, however small...

DAHELM.

Among the improvements which are being made at Millbrook, that which is going on at Mr. C. F. Dieterich's is well worthy of notice.

Extensive orchards of choice trees have been set out, and the valuable orchards now on the place will have attention some time.

The imposing rock work in the rear of the mansion, with its gnomes and waterfall, is a thing of beauty.

Mr. Dieterich, his wife, and son, are most genial in nature, and always cordially welcome their less fortunate neighbors to enjoy with them their beautiful surroundings.

WASHINGTON HOLLOW. Miss Margaret Thome gave the people of this place a fine talk Sunday, and it is hoped her efforts to do good may be blessed with success.

Mr. D. P. Wheeler has returned home from a visit to friends in Orange, N. J. He also made a flying trip to Connecticut at the same time, and reports a very enjoyable visit.

Our blacksmith is kept busy now-a-days. The ring of his hammer may be heard from early morn till late at night. He seems to be the right man in the right place.

VERBANK. The Rev. W. Ackroyd preached in this town on Sunday. His sermon was enjoyed.

MABBETTSVILLE. Mrs. Harriet Loege got her assessment lowered to $200.00. There is talk of some others trying if property is depreciating in value herabout.

ALCOHOL IN THE TREATMENT OF DISEASE.

Dr. E. P. Swift.

The value of alcohol in the human system as an aliment, or force producer, is a subject which has given rise to much discussion among medical scientists, and many experiments have been made to ascertain its destination in the animal economy.

Other observers, as Austin and Dupre, maintain as a result of their experiments, that a portion only of the alcohol ingested escapes unchanged from the body, the rest having been destroyed, or burned up in the system, and consequently that it has an alimentary value.

Prof. Bartholow, of Philadelphia, concludes that the weight of authority and the deductions of experiment are in favor of the view which maintains that alcohol, to the quantity of one ounce to the healthy adult in twenty-four hours, is oxidized in the system, and yields a certain amount of nervous, muscular, and glandular force.

Dr. B. W. Richardson, of London, whose researches have given us more light upon this subject than those of any other man, has this to say about the effect of alcohol upon the body, taken in moderate quantity.

On the minute blood vessels, those which form the terminals of the arteries, and in which the vital acts of nutrition and production of animal heat and force are carried on, alcohol produces a paralyzing effect, - hence the flush of the face and hands which we observe in those who have partaken freely of wine.

Upon the nervous system alcohol exerts a double action - first flushing it with blood, a state of exhilaration is produced, to be followed by corresponding depression and loss of muscular power.

Another disastrous fire. Bangall seems to be doated to destruction by fire. Only a little over a month ago we recorded the burning of Alfred Keller's house.

As in the case of treatment by bleeding and mercury, opinion in the medical profession has greatly changed on this subject, independently altogether of the subject of temperance during the last century.

Fall News for FALL SHOES.

The russet shoe like the straw hat, has gone out, if not worn out. It served a good purpose, but the season has changed, and goods for fall and winter wear have come in.

The beautiful new goods just placed on our counters are very seasonable and attractive.

Franklin Avenue DRUG STORE. SYDNEY HENRY, M.D. DRUGS, MEDICINES, PERFUMERY AND FANCY ARTICLES.

Saturday Nov. 19, 1892.

A good supply of BLANKETS. While we sell white or gray blankets at 75 cts. and $1 a pair, everybody may be supplied.

Extra fine and handsome, large size, rainbow borders, $6 a pair. Extra handsome borders and qualities to match, $6.50 and $8 a pair.

All wool, very large, very fine, $10, $11, $12 a pair. Those who enjoy fine blankets will appreciate these if they see them.

We also have a large variety of Robe Blankets for couch covers or for cutting up for wrappers or bath robes. Gray tan and navy, with pretty borders, $3.25 to $6.50 a pair.

Albums and Photo Albums will continue to sell so long as photographs are taken. Ample has a large line, and he is selling them cheap. See them on the Market St. side.

New Underwear!

I beg to call your attention to the finest line of Winter Underwear ever shown in this place, ranging in prices from 50 cts. to $2.00.

J. MILTON OSBORN. The Most Economical System of Heating your Home is to use the RICHARDSON & BOYNTON CO.'S PERFECT HOT WATER HEATER.

MERRITT & COLVILLE, MILLBROOK, N. Y.

NEW GOODS!

I have now a complete stock of underwear, Gloves, Mittens and Woolen Hosiery, also a good assortment of Bed and Horse Blanket.

New Prints, new Muslin, new Dress goods and new notions. Come and see for yourself.

Wm. E. Smith. S. VAN VLACK. Groceries. ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Near W. C. T. U. Hall, Millbrook, N. Y.

King's Windsor Cement. DRY MORTAR. Many builders are using King's Dry Mortar for good walls, instead of lime and sand.

SWIFT BROS., MILLBROOK, N. Y. F. W. Swift, PLUMBING, TINNING Heating & Co. Good work a specialty. 5 and 10 Ct. Counters, Tinware &c. Millbrook, N. Y. Andrews' building WATCHES & CLOCKS. Reputed at short notice. Orders received for new goods. Call and see samples and prices. W. S. Kelleff, Millbrook.

THE ROUND TABLE

Nov. 19, 1892. $1.00 A YEAR.

Published by the Round Table Publishing Company. J. Higgins, H. Hoeter.

...the Union... a fashion magazine... we ventured to predict...

...the World's Fair... the public... too much rapacity... too little of...

...the feeling of disgust after... the convention in June... the celebration exercises...

...the part of forty-one out of... the directors, in spite of writ... from millions of people...

...the law of Congress... accompanied a gift worth five... dollars, the determination...

...the grounds, but not suggesting... any plan which would forbid them to collect...

...the money-making... scheme, it means extra work for... thousands of railroad men...

...the price of liberty, and no one can afford... not to use his influence, however small...