Law Suit DAVIS vs MILLER The case of William H. Davis against Alonzo F. Miller was tried in the County Court Tuesday. The jury found a verdict for the full amount $100, for Wm. Davis.

On or about July 1st, last, Mr. Miller bought the Bullis farm, and at that time sold the hay on it for $125 to Mr. Davis, standing, reserving ten tons of it for himself, agreeing to leave it to Mr. Davis what amount he should charge for the ten tons. This agreement was set forth in a letter from Mr. Miller to Mr. Davis. Mr. Miller contended that he afterward made a second contract with Mr. Davis in which he agreed to cut ten tons for Miller and ten tons for himself and pay $75 for the balance.

Mr. Miller was corroborated in his testimony of a second contract by his wife and a Mr. Miglet who resides with the family. Mr. Davis claimed the ten tons was worth $100 which Mr. Miller refused to pay; hence the law suit and a verdict for the full amount for Mr. Davis. Elijah T. Russell represented Mr. Davis, and Chas. F. Crossen appeared for Mr. Miller.

Methodist Episcopal Church The Sunday School will have the Christmas exercises Friday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The services on Sunday will be Christmas services. The morning subject will be "The Holiday Humanity." In the evening the pastor will speak on "Heaven's Christmas Gift to Earth."

The Sunday School at Verbank will render their Christmas program on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30, and at that time the pastor will preach a Christmas sermon to children, on "Christmas Gifts." Wednesday evening, the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Verbank Church will give a "Hat Social" at the home of Eugene Tompkins, at Verbank Village.

Hat Social Remember the "Hat" social at Eugene Tompkins, Verbank Village Wednesday evening, December 28th, 1904. A silver offering will be solicited and a good time will be furnished for all who come. Friends do try and come and bring all the family, company, etc., and help make this a grand success and also a Christmas offering.

COMMITTEE A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer. Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of The New York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New York Tribune Farmer brings more real practical helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be other as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have to discover them as yet.

Yours very truly, CHARLES E. BODMAN, Gouverneur, N. Y., November 28, 1904. Through a special agreement with The New York Tribune Farmer we will send it with the Millbrook Round Table, both papers, one year, for $1.25. Send your name and address to the Millbrook Round Table, Millbrook, N. Y.

TOWER HILL

Smith Benham butchered some more logs for Chas. Hicks, of Lithgow, Monday.

Thomas Whalen and family were at Dover Plains Sunday, to see Mrs. Whalen's mother.

David Briggs was here calling Friday.

Miss Nora Hallouk, of Stanburyville, visited her uncle's Smith and David Benham the past week. Miss Hallouk was on her way home from a six weeks' visit with relatives at Sussex, Passaic, Highwood, Pleasantville, N. J., and Wassaic.

David Benham and daughter, Ruth, called on Lithgow friends Saturday. George Seaman spent the past week with his cousin, Stephen Benham.

Mrs. John Sink and son Harry were at Mahabostville, Saturday. Stephen Benham and sister, Hazel, were at Millbrook, Saturday.

Mrs. Thomas Jones is in very poor health again, and her friends join in wishing her a speedy recovery. John White is busy selling fish oysters, etc.

Ernest Marshall is cutting and delivering cord wood this week.

Mrs. John White was with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Jones, over Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Decker are visiting his parents here this week. Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Benham and son and daughter, visited Mrs. Benham's mother, Mrs. Walling, a few days last week, and returned home Monday.

A merry, merry Christmas to all.

CLINTON CORNERS

The annual Entertainment of the Friends' Sunday School, Clinton Corners, will be held in the Church, Tuesday evening, December 17th, at 7:30. Dialogues, recitations, tableaux, music and singing, will be an attractive feature of the evening. The music will be under the direction of Mrs. Lonie Wing, who will preside at the organ. All come and hear the children.

Miss Bertha Sperry will close her school Friday, for the holiday vacation.

The mercury in this place the past week marked 15 below zero.

Miss Irene Ham, of Verbank, was a guest of Alma Griffin, Griffin Hill, Saturday and Sunday.

Many are enjoying the sleighing, and we hear the pleasant sound of the bells.

Mrs. Lonie Wing and Miss Libbie Colwell were in Poughkeepsie Tuesday, purchasing presents for the Christmas tree for the Friends' Sunday School.

WASHINGTON HOLLOW

Mr. Hiram Sutherland, who has been ailing for so long, quietly passed away Tuesday evening at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Sutherland had lived nearly all his life here, and will be greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Morey drove to Poughkeepsie Monday.

A merry sleigh load from Millbrook passed through here Monday evening, blowing horns, ringing bells and all that sort of thing. The sleighing is fine and we wonder more are not out enjoying it.

Several farmers have commenced getting their ice, and it all looks to be of good quality.

Our good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Swift for a pleasant, healthful winter in the "Happy Land of Manatee."

A merry Christmas to the Round Table and all its readers.

FANTASTIC CELEBRATIONS.

Mysteries and Moralities at Christmas in Middle Ages.

During the middle ages Christmas was celebrated by the gay fantastic spectacle of dramatic mysteries and moralities given by personages in grotesque masks and singular costumes.

The scenery usually represented an infant in a cradle surrounded by the Virgin Mary and St. Joseph, bulle's heads, cherubs, eastern magi and many ornaments.

Then there were the Christmas carols or some which recalled the songs of the shepherds at the Nativity. These songs were attended by dances to the rhythm of the various musical instruments. Everybody joined this merry-making, and the wild music and singing were kept up the livelong night.

Of these ancient Christmas carols but few have been preserved to us. The foregoing seemed to be the custom of all Christian nations during the middle ages.

In Italy it was the custom of the Calabrian minstrels to descend from the mountains and discourse their wild music before the shrine of the Virgin Mary. In England and on the continent the bells are still rung at midnight. Among other revels of the Christmas season were the so called feasts of fools and asses, in which everything serious was burlesqued, infatigable dressed up as their superiors and great men becoming playful, the whole showing the proneness of man to reverse the order of society and to ridicule its deceptions.

In England Christmas is a term at once for a religious and merry-making festival for every rank and age, the festivities commencing on Christmas eve and lasting till Candlemas, and every day being a holiday till Twelfth Night (Jan. 6). In the houses of nobles a "feast of merriment" formerly was appointed, whose duty it was to provide the rarest amusement and whose rule lasted from All Hallow eve till Candlemas. They lived on the fat of the land, and all of the tenants were invited in to share the general fun and merry-making.—Houston Post.

Where the Heavens Open. In Poland it is believed that on Christmas night the heavens are opened and the scene of Jacob's ladder is re-enacted, but only the saints are permitted to see it. In Holland the people enter thoroughly into the spirit of the Nativity. In nearly every Dutch town at 2 o'clock Christmas morning the young men assemble at the market place, singing the "Gloria" and other hymns. One of them carries a large star on a pole. This is supposed to represent the star that guided the steps of the three kings to the stable at Bethlehem.

Trees Alongside of Roads. Not only should brush and weeds be removed from the roadside, but grass should be sown, trees planted, and a side path or walk, be prepared for the use of pedestrians, especially women and children, going to and coming from church, school, and places of business and amusement. Country roads can be made far more useful and attractive than they usually are, and this may be secured by the expenditure of only a small amount of labor and money. Although such improvements are not necessary, they make the surroundings attractive and inviting and add to the value of property and the pleasure of the traveler.

When you want a pleasant purgative try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no nausea, griping or other disagreeable effect.

Christmas in Bethlehem. Christmas in the Holy Land is an interesting experience. Indeed it is one never to be forgotten, and every Christmas thousands of persons from all over the world make a journey to Palestine in order to witness the various ceremonies held there during the festive season. Every one almost puts up at Jerusalem and on Christmas morning makes his way to Bethlehem, which lies almost due south, about six miles away as the crow flies, over a range of hills. No highway, the world over presents such a motley crowd as may be seen streaming along this thoroughfare early on Christmas morning.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE, Ashburnham, Ontario Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I knew this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a Godsent remedy. Respe fully yours,

E. A. LANGRISH, M. A., Rector of St. Luke's Church, To Chamberlain Medicine Co., Dean Bros.

Burgundy's Christmas Carols. In Burgundy carols are exceedingly popular. Indeed not more cherished is the German's Christmas tree, with its glistening ornaments and the Christ Child, or the Englishman's red holly berries, mystic mistletoe, blazing hearth fire and smoking plum pudding than are the ditties sung all through advent until Christmas eve by the good folk of that province.
