To Cure a Cough Remove the Cause

There are so many cough cures on the market, that a selection of the proper one is most difficult.

As a result of our experience in handling scores of different kinds, we feel justified in our claim that is in a class by itself. It relieves by removing the cause. It acts promptly and each bit of relief is a step towards a thorough cure.

NATURE'S COUGH REMEDY

At this season when coughs are prevalent, keep a bottle of Nature's Cough Remedy in the home. It's the reliable household cough cure.

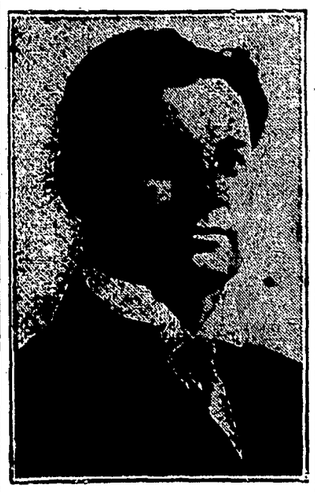
CHARLES K. CHAMPLIN COMING TO MUSIC HALL

The attraction announced for the Music Hall all next week is the popular Charles K. Champlin Company.

The past reputation of this strong attraction is a sufficient guarantee of the merit of its productions, both in the acting company and the plays to be presented, to say nothing of the manner in which they will be produced, each complete in every detail. Every year finds this organization stronger than the previous one and this season will be no exception to the rule.

During the week Mr. Champlin will present the following high class plays: "A Gentleman of Leisure," "Madame X," "Alias Jimmy Valentine," "Daughters of Men," "The Master of the House," "Shore Acres," "The Price Women Pay," and "The Ensign."



Chas. K. Champlin at Music Hall All Next Week.

The engagement will open Monday evening with an elaborate production of "Madame X." All things that are worthy and fine are in this masterpiece from the French: pathos, charm, humor, that sparkles like champagne—even grim tragedy, all painted with so masterly a hand that one sees a picture of the human soul absolutely without equal elsewhere on the modern stage.

The prices are 20, 30 and 50 cents, and seats are now on sale at the box office from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily.

YOUNG JUDIANS MAKE THEIR RESOLUTIONS

The Young Judians have made another good resolution. This time to "Feed the Hungry and Lodge the Homeless Wanderer" is what the Judians with strenuous forth putting fully drew upon.

To amplify their charity fund they undertook to solicit members with dues of five cents. "The rich shall give no more and the poor shall give no less."

A. Edelson was elected an honorary member and will act as treasurer and also as distributer of the charity fund.

Ralph Cohn, Secretary.

Looking Ahead.

"If we quarrel like this now, what will we do after marriage?"

"Well, if you think I'm going to rush blindly into marriage without finding out who's boss, you're mistaken."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Had a Kick.

"How are the fish biting?"

"Fine."

"Then what is he kicking about?"

"Because he cannot pull them out all cleaned and fried."

LYNCH'S REP[illegible] SHOWS MA[illegible] IDLE

PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF IDLENESS IS LACK OF WORK—101,149 UNEMPLOYED.

Albany, Jan. 2.—The percentage of idleness among the trade unions of the State for the year ending September 30 was greater than during any corresponding year since 1896, with the single exception of 1908. The principal cause for this idleness was "lack of work." These facts are shown in a special bulletin about to be issued by Commissioner James M. Lynch, of the State Department of Labor.

"Returns as to idleness received by the State Department of Labor," said Commissioner Lynch today, "from practically all trade unions of the State, representing over 600,000 wage earners, show that the percentage of idle members was greater at the close of the year ending September 30th than in any year for the past seventeen, except 1908."

The number of members included in the report to the State Department of Labor was 627,094, and the number reported idle was 101,149, a percentage of 16.1.

"Figures for localities have not yet been compiled," said Commissioner Lynch today, "but as two-thirds of the State's union members in the building industry and over 90 per cent. of members in the clothing trades are in New York city, it will be seen that the conspicuous increase in idleness among organized wage-earners for the year ending September 30th, largely due to the returns from these two industries alone, is especially significant to the metropolis. Our figures show that three-fourths of the members reported idle in September were in New York city. The trades reporting the greatest idleness there were the bricklayers with 3,686, bricklayers' laborers with 4,711, carpenters with 3,082, and more than 500 members in each of six other building trades.

Nearly all of the idleness in the clothing trades was centered in New York city. The basters reported as idle 5,010; cloak and suit makers, 6,100; clothing cutters and trimmers, 1,500; clothing pressors, 2,915; coat, pants and vest makers, 13,655; jacket makers, 2,605; skirt makers, 1,920; tailors, 1,305, and waist, dress and wrapper makers, 12,040, a total in those trades alone in New York City of over 47,000.

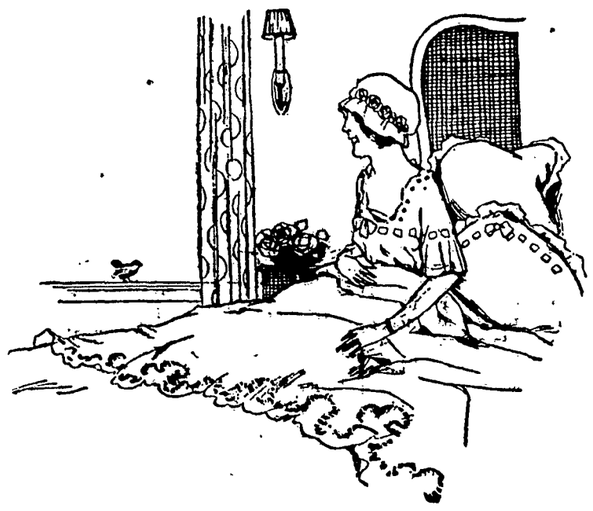
Fifty-fourth SALE of WHITE--Original

Surely the Most Original of All

506 styles of Nightgowns
282 styles of Combinations
91 styles of Chemises
371 styles of Corset Covers
417 styles of Drawers
71 styles of Princess Slips
158 styles of Petticoats



55,080 garments all told. Each one snowily fresh. Each one selected. Each one of specified materials of Wanamaker quality. Each one made in sanitary workshops.

Thirty-six years ago we inaugurated in America the White Sale.

In 1878 the Sale was full of muslin underclothes. The things that most interested women in it then were that buttons were pearl; garments were plenty wide, materials were good and durable; trimmings were heavy embroideries that would wear well.

Ever since the Wanamaker White Sale has been steadily improving. Materials have softened and become sheer. Styles have grown slim and straight like the outer garments. Women prefer becoming underclothes to those that are merely durable—and the Wanamaker White Sale mirrors this change.

Two years ago we decided to make the White Sale more like Paris

Today the Wanamaker White Sale contains hundreds of Paris-like garments with exquisite copies of real lace and plenty of the beautiful hand-made Valenciennes.

You will see them everywhere.

Pretty things at $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50 and on up to $22.50.

Many times cheaper than the Paris garments would be and yet exactly duplicating the Paris garments.

These First Days of the Sale

This White Sale is planned to last a full month. Yet women who like to have the best choice will choose now.

Now every pretty style is here. Now any size can be had in every garment. Now everything is fresh and unhandled.

Every garment is better than can be usually secured at the sale prices

Every garment is made over our own measurements, so that it will fit as well as any from our regular stocks.

It has taken six months to prepare this sale. Carefully cut, well made garments are not to be had in a minute.

Nightgowns, $1 upward
Long chemises, 75c upward
Combinations, $1 upward
Drawers, 50c upward
Petticoats, $1
Vest chemises, 75c up.
Corset covers, 50c up.
Princess slips, $1 up.

Dancing Knickers

Trimmed with wide lace and satin ribbon, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75 and $2. They are open or closed and some have the beautiful machine made Binche lace in rich old patterns. We directly imported this fine lace to save the middleman's profit, and so have been able to use it on every inexpensive garments.

Anti-Silhouette Petticoats

are of heavy cotton with a deep band reaching from the knee made of two thicknesses of the material. This is an improvement on the double panel petticoat introduced by the Wanamaker Store last summer. The anti-silhouette petticoat protects one around the entire skirt at just the right point. $1 and $1.50.

Sport Petticoats

are of plaid at $1, $1.50 and $2. They have hemstitched hem or are finished with scalloped embroidery.

Combination Chemises

We have had combinations of corset covers with drawers, with short petticoats and long skirts. Now here are combinations of chemises and drawers. They are perfectly straight. They have absolutely no waist line. Incidentally they are very pretty as well as practical. $1 to $3.

Berkeley Cambric

has been specially made up for us in drawers at 50c and in nightgowns at $1.

Wamsutta Cambric

is another of our standard makes of material which may be had in drawers for $1, in nightgowns for $1.50 and $2, in corset covers for $1.25, $1.50 and $2

Fruit of the Loom Cambric

may be had in nightgowns for $1.

Crepe Underclothes

for travelling may be had in petticoats, nightgowns, corset covers and petticoats, a particularly desirable variety of nightgowns for $1.

This Is the Time
