PRIZE BAKING.

A great many women who are naturally fine cooks, never really accomplish prize quality baking, because they do not have the advantage of a completely airtight oven. During the week beginning (Monday Sept. 15th) a visiting demonstrator of the famous Great Majestic Range will be at John Laing, East Otto. This range is riveted in all its parts, so that no heat escapes from the oven. The baking results are wonderful and with saving of fuel, besides. Also a gift of fine cooking ware, a complete set goes with each Majestic Range sold during Demonstration Week. The price of the range will be the same as always, no charge for the set of cooking ware.

Watering House Plants.

Plants should be watered with a spray, not with a cup or a glass. Those that can be moved should be placed where the water will not damage carpets or floors; those that cannot—such as large ferns or palms—should have something spread on the floor beneath them to catch the water as it drips. The water must be sprayed from above so that all the leaves receive it; this carries off the dust and is the only natural way for a plant to receive water.

Daily Thought.

He lives who dies to win a lasting name.—Drummond.

Those Blundering Authors!
We referred recently to one of John Galsworthy's American characters calling for "A flash of beer," now here's another writer, Arthur J. Ross, saying, "He is to use an American colloquialism, 'quick on the uptake.' Put this, as Barrie lovers know, is Scotch.—Boston Transcript.

"Knocked Into a Cocked Hat."
The meaning of this expression is generally known. "Cocked" is a variety of the game of tennis which only three were used, set angles of a triangle. When playing at tennis, all were knocked except the three at the end of the set was said to be "knocked into a cocked hat."

Baptized in a Balloon.

The child of a well-known member of the British parliament was recently christened in the crypt of the house of commons. This is, in a sense, a survival of the custom of hygone days, when christenings in crypts were by no means uncommon. In one recent case in California, for instance, the ceremony was performed in a diving bell at the bottom of the sea. In another case the proud parents of the new arrival persuaded a clergyman to baptize the child while up in a balloon.

Only One Clear Road to Success.

No unwilling worker ever yet achieved great success, for men only succeed where they think deeply, work cheerfully and rejoice at the success of what they are working at.

WORDS TO MEMORIZE.

In charging the grand jury which has been summoned to investigate the Olean riots, Justice Cole said: "For a mob there is no such thing as justification, no such thing as excuses, no such thing as palliation. The man who attempts to justify it forfeits the right to decent opinion of his fellow men. The community which attempts to justify it forfeits the right to respectable standing in the family of communities within the state. A mob is simply a blot."

This is a doctrine which should be accepted by every person who who wishes to think of himself as a law-abiding American citizen. It should be the first principle enunciated by all persons who undertake to organize and lead and instruct American citizens for any purpose whatever. In this republic law and order come first always. —Buffalo Express.

Obtain Oil From Eggs.

The turtle living in the Orinoco lays eggs which are extraordinarily rich in oil. The Indians in British Guiana collect 25,000,000 yearly for making oil. The eggs of many sea birds are excellent eating. The best of the lot is said to be that of the "murre," a bird which is very common on the Labrador coast.

Contentious Never Popular.

The wise man in Israel has truly said: "A fool's lips enter into contention," and the contentious fool is as common a nuisance today as he was no doubt in the olden ones. Usually in proportion to their lack of actual knowledge do such persons presume to set themselves up as dictators to others.—Exchange.

Leonardo's Handwriting.

In one account of the life of Leonardo da Vinci we read a curious story about the great man's handwriting. It seems that it resembled characters in Hebrew or Arabic, for he used his left hand and wrote from right to left of the page, instead of from left to right, as we do today. One of Da Vinci's letters could, therefore, only be read by holding it up before a mirror.

Domestic Cat Distinct Species.

The Egyptian cat seemed to have a good claim to the honor of being the ancestor of the domestic cat, both on account of its tapering tail and size, in which it bears a great similarity to the domestic cat. But peculiarities which were discovered in its dentition were sufficient to remove its claim. So it seems best to consider the domestic cat a distinct species.

Flowers Foretell Rain.

The ordinary clover and all its varieties, including shamrock, are barometers. When rain is coming the leaves shut together like the shells of an oyster. For a day or two before rain comes their stems swell to an appreciable extent, and stiffen so that the leaves are borne more uprightly than usual. This stem swelling when rain is expected is a feature of many flowering grasses.

High Price Paid for Beefsteak.

The highest price ever paid for beefsteak was probably at Circle City, Alaska, a town that sprang up overnight during the Klondike gold excitement. The first beefsteak to reach there sold for $48 a pound. Every one wanted some of it, and so they raffled it off for the benefit of a hospital. Tickets were sold from 50 cents to $2.50 for the privilege of drawing a slice.

"French Leave."

This expression arose in the early part of the eighteenth century, through certain guests, in the salons of France, not aware of the higher acts of courtesy, leaving without saying good-by to the host or hostess. The practice spread to society in this country. Therefore, if a man left without saying good-by to his host, it was said he took "French leave."

WHAT WILL WE BE LIKE IN 1940?

Look at the Babies of To-day if you Want to See the Americans of To-morrow.

A new sort of motherhood has come into style within the last ten or fifteen years, which clearly indicates a better and stronger race for the days of 1940.

This new, scientific motherhood, is "the motherhood of better babies," and it means a race of stronger people, more able to combat disease; less subject to chills, colds, pains and fever; longer lived and easier to live with.

The time was when the baby had to take his own chance with the world and the infant mortality statistics of a decade ago tell the tragic story all too clearly—the story of babies who died before they even had a chance to live.

To-day, however, the nation realizes the value of its babies.

Doctors are saving them, trained nurses are saving them, the great newspapers are saving them by giving publicity to articles on how to take care of children, but most of all mothers are doing this great work, by learning new and better ways to take care of their babies, and especially by learning how to feed them, for it is in the feeding that the baby's strength or weakness is established.

A baby who is given the proper kind of food has an immediate advantage. Napoleon said "An army moves on its stomach" but the army of babies even more truly moves on its stomach, and wins or loses by the kind of food mothers choose.

One kind of baby food which is now used more than any other, is Nestle's Milk Food. Made out of milk with just the right amount of cereal and sugar added, it is a complete milk food already properly prepared and modified. Mother just adds water to the clean fluffy powder and then boils for a minute. In every bottle baby has a complete meal.

Nestle's is so quickly and easily prepared that it is essentially mistake proof, and that is one of the ways that the babies of to-day are being built for the superior race of to-morrow.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS PLEASE PALACE PATRONS

John W. Vogel's Minstrels who appeared at the Palace Theatre Monday night were greeted by a fair sized audience. The performance which they gave was excellent in every respect and was pronounced by many to be the best attraction in the line of musical entertainment that has ever appeared in Cattaraugus. Judging from the persistent encores the whole audience was well satisfied, and will be glad to see this company back should they see fit to visit Cattaraugus again sometime in the future.

Daily Thought.

Aspiration sees only one side of every question; possession many.—Lowell.

NOTICE

Vendors of ice-cream, soft drinks etc., who engage in business temporarily at County Fairs and similar events particularly in the month of September are warned not to overlook the collection of taxes by the Collector of Internal Revenue, V. H. Riordan.

Deputies from Collector Riordan's office have been advised that a number of itinerant peddlers attend county fairs and set up ice cream stands for the few days the enterprise is running. It is the purpose of the Revenue Department to see that these dealers give a full accounting to the Collector of all taxes collected on ice-cream, soft drinks etc.

Roadside stands set up on Sunday and holidays on the sides of heavily-traveled roads where ice-cream and other taxable commodities have been sold, will also receive the attention of the Revenue Officers, Collector Riordan stated. On state roads where auto traffic is heavy on Sundays, many of these stands handle a large volume of business. Despite the fact that their owners are not regularly engaged in the business, their responsibility will not be overlooked by the Revenue Department officers.

Respectfully,
V. H. Riordan
Collector.

Explaining Geysers.

In a word, the whole secret of the intermittent geyser lies in a subterranean reservoir, the contents of which are forced out by steam expansion every time it gets filled up. The Yellowstone park is a region which not so very long ago was fiercely volcanic. In that role it has ceased to play an alarming part, but locally the earth's crust is extremely thin. A very literal hell rages not far beneath the places frequented by tourists, and thence is derived the heat that causes the outbursts of the geysers.

Vast British Empire.

Including all her possessions, the British empire has the largest territory. It had at the beginning of the war a total area of 13,123,712 square miles, of which 121,512 are in Europe, 2,187,550 in Asia, 3,618,245 in North America, 8,600 in Central America, 12,300 in the West Indies, 97,800 in South America and 3,214,685 in Australasia.

The Lilac Tree.

The lilac is perhaps, all things considered, the most splendid of flowering trees. Everybody is familiar with its fragrance. The tree belongs to the olive family and is closely allied to the common privet, but it bears no fleshy fruit and is valueless except for the splendor of its blossoms.

His View.

A somewhat cynical acquaintance tells us that the secret of happiness is not to let your troubles bother you more than they bother your friends.—Boston Transcript.

Watch the Exhaust.

A government bulletin is authority for the statement that the greatest single factor in the operation of the steam plant is the way in which the exhaust steam problem is handled.

What Are These Maples?
What are these maples and beeches and birches but odds and idyls and madrigals; what are these pines and firs and spruces but holy hymns?—Holmes.

Sought Trees for Protection.

Tree-dwellers are found among savages in various parts of the world. According to the scientists the first habitations of mankind were in the trees as the most adequate protection against the many enemies of the early type of man. It was only in the later period of man's evolution that he was strong enough to hold his own on the ground.

Effect Not Appreciated.

Instead of candles, Lucille's mother placed six large marshmallows on top of her birthday cake. When little Doris returned from the party her mother said: "Well, did you all have a jolly good time?" and she replied: "Yes, all but the cake. Oh, mother, that cake looked so bad, just like a cemetery. It had little tombstones on it."

Artesian Wells.

The Chinese have obtained water through means of artesian wells for over 1,000 years. One of the most famous wells in existence is that at Grenoble in the outskirts of Paris, where the water is brought from a depth of 1,798 feet. It yields 516½ gallons of water a minute. Many years ago a well in Pech was sunk to the depth of 3,100 feet.

Jewish Sabbath.

The Jewish Sabbath starts at sunset on Friday, because the Jews, like the ancient Greeks, began their day at sunset and not at sunrise, or immediately after midnight, as we do, who follow the ancient Romans.
