Tracy Storch
to serve with Advisory Group

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Ward, Executive Director of the TB-RD Association of the Seaway Area, Inc., Ogdensburg, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Far North Sub-region of the Central New York Regional Medical Program, has announced that among the several new members named to serve on the Regional Advisory Group are:

Jefferson County, Dr. Irwin K. Stone, Watertown; John B. Johnson, Jr., Production Manager, Watertown Daily Times, Watertown;

Lewis County, Judge J. Robert Lynch, Supreme Court of Lewis County, Lowville.

St. Lawrence County, Warren Heiler, M.D., Ogdensburg; Mrs. Virginia McAllister, Chairman, Department of Health Technology, SUNY, Agricultural and Technical College at Canton; Tracy F. Storch, Administrator, North Country Hospitals, Gouverneur; and Rev. Jack M. Wells, Potsdam.

The prestigious 50-member Board is the policy-making body for CNYRMP, a federally funded effort to increase access to and improve the quality of health care while moderating cost. RMP makes grants for innovative projects designed to fulfill these goals, and serves as a catalyst for health care improvement. It covers a 17-county area from the Canadian border to the Southern Tier, including Bradford and Susquehanna Counties in Pennsylvania.

Miss Billie Farmer
attends conference

Five Senior Scouts and one adult member of the Thousand Islands Girl Scout Council were delegates to "The Child of '72 and YOU", a conference on the care of handicapped and underprivileged children, last weekend in Syracuse.

Conducted by the Central New York Girl Scout Council, the conference was held on the Syracuse University campus. Participants were entertained in the homes of council members.

Planned to help girls prepare for careers for volunteer work in their own communities, the program included speakers from the Central Palsy Association, the Syracuse State School, Fairmount Center for Emotionally Disturbed Children, DeWitt School for the Retarded, Hillbrook Detention Home, Peace Day Care Center and the House of Providence.

"The Me Nobody Knows", a rock musical based on the writings of ghetto children, and a special Girl Scout service Sunday morning in Hendricks Chapel were other conference events.

Midwinter camping event expanded to three weekends

The Polar Bear Weekend, midwinter camping event of the Thousand Islands Girl Scout Council held annually at Camp Trefoil, the council's resident camp near Harrisville, will this season be expanded to include three weekends.

Senior and Ninth grade Cadette Scouts will attend the weekends of Feb. 18-20 and Feb. 25-27, with a special session Feb. 11-13 for eighth grade Cadette Scouts. Registration for all sessions must be received by Friday, Feb. 4, at the office of the Thousand Islands Council, 445 Factory Street, Watertown, N.Y. 13601. Each weekend is limited to 60 girls.

Staying at Juniper Hills Ski Center is the Saturday feature of each Polar Bear weekend, with a short basic lesson for beginners by Miss E. Shirley Beers, physical education instructor of Carthage Central School, and a staff of experienced Senior Scout leaders. Mrs. James H. Austin, field adviser, will be director for the three weekends.

Camp Trefoil is equipped for comfortable winter camping. The girls will sleep in the Nature Center and Library, which is winterized and electrically heated.
