MAKE JOB YOUR FRIEND

The hard thing in life is not to make the money needed for happiness, but to find the job you can do best. I suppose that some men never really hit upon their vocation. But, broadly speaking, the right job for every man is the thing that he must do next. I doubt whether many of us ever pick our jobs; we just happen upon them, or they happen upon us. Presently we get acquainted with each other and both decide that the other fellow will do pretty well. That is the way to know your job. Make it your friend. Invest it with a personality and give your job the chance that you would give your friend. Do not cheat or skip it; be loyal and zealous and your job will reward you with every joy of friendship.—Samuel M. Vauclair.

Houghton Predicts Era of Prosperity in United States

London, May 12.—Ambassador Houghton, addressing the American Chamber of Commerce in London as the principal guest at a luncheon today, predicted a new era of prosperity for world trade and commerce when normal conditions are resumed. Ambassador Houghton declared he often had asked himself if America would be ready for the great rush of business which would follow when the doors of trade finally are reopened after the wreckage caused to commerce by the war.

Referring to the commercial progress that has been made since the signing of the Armistice in 1919, Ambassador Houghton said he was optimistic regarding the outlook for the future, and that sooner or later normal conditions would be restored. "When that time comes, and it cannot be far distant, I see a new era of prosperity ahead of us in world trade," he asserted. "We may be quite sure that if American foreign trade is to prosper, it will prosper only because and to the extent that other nations find it to their advantage to make it prosper," declared the Ambassador.

Tells Farm Truths

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Ill. bearded capital and big city publishers in their deal to tell them the truth about the deplorable conditions in agriculture today. "Co-operative Marketing is the only solution," he says.

Coolidge Balks at Defence Test Plan on Armistice Day

Washington, May 12.—President Coolidge today set his face against the plans of the War Department holding a national defense Armistice Day, November 11, 1925, to mark the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. His Secretary of War, John D. Weeks, whose resignation is now regarded as inevitable.

Mr. Coolidge's views were made known officially at the White House today, following the receipt of the War Department report urging a defense test to be held this year on Armistice Day.

The President's first thought, it was explained in his behalf, is unfavorable to the idea of what he calls a military display on Armistice Day.

It was made apparent that the Chief Executive had been influenced by numerous telegrams received at

Survives 13,200 Volts Electricity

Newburgh, May 12.—Edward Ferry of Newburgh today had 13,200 volts of electricity pass through his body and escaped with slight burns. He is a fireman employed by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Co., and was cleaning behind a switch board when he touched a terminal. He was knocked unconscious and was burned about his hand, shoulders and knees.

Tax Cut Result of Surplus in Treasury

Washington, May 12.—Director Lord of the Budget Bureau, told President Coolidge today he was confident there would be a government surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30th, of $108,000,000—the amount by which the Executive has been hoping receipts will exceed expenditures. This estimate by the director greatly exceeds his prediction, made last Autumn, of a $67,000,000 surplus. He attributed the increase to heavier revenue returns, and receipts of the Postoffice Department.

Looking ahead to the coming fiscal year, the budget director predicted a surplus of $373,000,000, the figure on which administration and congressional leaders are basing their estimates as to the possible extent of tax reductions.

Director Lord told Mr. Coolidge that the government's example in curtailing expenditures is being reflected in various states. He returned to Washington, today from a trip to New England and expects to go into Indiana and Illinois later this week, explaining the Federal government plans for reducing expenses. Hope for future tax reduction now is principally with the states and municipalities, the director said, pointing out that two-thirds of the tax burden is due to their levies.

Dinner

The Medina Women's Study Club will give a dinner at Fairview Manor this evening. It is "Gentlemen's Night" and the husbands will be their guests.

They're still a-slashin' at taxes, as they promised the folks they would, several months afore the election, when candidates thought they should; I reckon they went an' slashed 'em as the papers declare they did, but I was a small exception, so mine was an upward skid. So far as I have observed 'em, the taxes was never so high—but the papers sez they are lower—and the newspapers never lie. Yes, they're goin' to keep on slashin' with some mighty furious blows—the Daily Worker knows! Of course it takes considerable change to satisfy Government needs, like salary hikes and benzene cars, and the cabinets' small affairs, the little social endeavors of the glorified millionaires. The election is done passed over and the cost of livin' is high—and we reckon they'll slash the tax some more—in the street by and

Amy Lowell, Poet and Writer Is Dead

Brookline, Mass., May 12.—Miss Amy Lowell, the poet and sister of President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard university, died suddenly at her home here today.

A paralytic stroke which came without warning, was the cause of death, which occurred late this afternoon. Dr. Theodore Eastman and Dr. Charles A. Porter were summoned and shortly afterward President Lowell arrived at his sister's home.

Miss Lowell was taken ill suddenly at her home on April 11th, and was obliged to cancel a projected trip to Europe. The illness, the recurrence of an old complaint, was said at that time to be not dangerous. A statement issued at that time by Miss Lowell's secretary said there was no immediate danger, but that the patient was being carefully watched.

Obey the Church Laws

New York, May 12.—Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, in addressing the 142d annual diocesan convention today, reiterated his insistence that the church's laws must be observed to the letter by clergymen in his see.

France to Use Dawes Plan Annuities to Pay U. S. Debt

Paris, May 12.—Finance Minister Caillaux announced today that the Dawes plan annuities that revert to France must be used for the completion of the re-construction of the devastated regions and for the amortization of the inter-allied debts, under some form to be determined later. Caillaux made the statement to the Finance committee of the chamber, outlining his financial plans.

Caillaux declared that three and one-half billion francs must be raised to balance the 1925 budget and he added that France must be prepared to make heavy sacrifices, which he hoped would be only momentary.

Zane Grey Film Recreates West Of 50 Years Ago

As radically as a covered wagon differs from an automobile, so a mid-western town of 1876 differs from one of the present day.

No section of the entire world has changed so much in the past fifty years as have the towns of Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Montana and Wyoming, as motion picture directors have discovered to their cost when endeavoring to recreate for the films some vanished centre. The sleepy freighting posts of the old west are today bustling cities.

For the production of Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," which William K. Howard directed for Paramount, an exact replica of an old-time trading post was built. Pioneers declared it was correct in every detail, according to their memories of old towns such as Fort Worth Village, Dodge City and Salt Lake City.

The picture realistically portrays the adventures of two of the many caravans that started for the far west. An exciting Indian battle and a thrilling buffalo stampede are among the many dynamic scenes in this photoplay.

Naturally, the characterizations in a story of this kind are of prime importance, and Director Howard realized that when he was assembling his cast, film fans are certain to approve his choice of such capable players as Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.

Rev. C. Poekler, Pastor

Fifth Sunday after Easter, May 17, 1925.

There will be both German and English services. In the German service beginning at 10 o'clock the pastor will deliver a sermon on Luke 11: 1: "And it came to pass, that he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples." The theme will be the words of the text: "Lord, teach us to pray." Thus we must pray because 1. We are so much in need of the right prayer. 2. We of ourselves know not how to pray. 3. The Lord is the right teacher who can teach us to pray.

In the English service beginning at 11 o'clock the pastor will base his sermon on John 16, 23-24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, He will give it you: Ask, and ye shall receive. The theme of this sermon will be: Christ's Instruction on Prayer. He teaches 1. The Nature, 2. The Necessity, 3. The Promise of Prayer.
