State News.

Rufus L. Sisson, Jr., has been chosen president of the Potsdam Country Club.

W. P. Deacy has been a member of the Utica fire department for 54 years. He is now deputy chief.

The state tax in Madison county has been reduced $17,661. This year the tax is $21136, against $38,797 last year.

The Stephen B. VanDuzee hospital, at Gouverneur, is to have an equipment that will cost in the neighborhood of $9,000.

The annual convention of the Central Zone of the New York State Teachers Association will be held in Utica, on October 26 and 27.

Clean, Cattaraugus county, has an epidemic of typhoid fever. Over 50 cases have been officially reported. The condition, it is feared, may become serious.

Papers noting the dissolution of the Lowville Cheese Company, Inc., formerly located in Lowville, were recently filed with the department of state, at Albany.

"Research in Education" will be the general theme of sessions of the Sixty-fourth Convocation of the University of the State of New York, to be held in Albany October 18-19.

A new weekly paper is to be printed at Winthrop, St. Lawrence county. The machinery is being installed, and it is expected the first edition of the publication will come out next week.

It is rumored that the Oswego Yarn Mills, the last industry of the kind in New York state, will soon close and dismantle its plant and move the business South. This seems to be in line with the fate of all textile business in the North. The owners give the reason for this that conditions in the South are more favorable.

If plans, which are now being considered, mature, a typical Indian village will be erected on the Onondaga Reservation, near Syracuse. The negotiations are being carried on between the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce and Chief Jesse Lyons of the Onondagas. The plan is to maintain the village for the benefit of sightseers.

Temporary Capital

The first session of congress after the burning of the United States capitol was held in the Biddgett building located at Seventh and E streets northwest, the site now occupied by the Land Office building.

Australia Old Country

Australia is considered to be one of the oldest existing land surfaces of the great portion of Australia is believed to have been already dry land when vast tracts of Europe and Asia were submerged.

Deadly Plant

The coyote plant is found in our Southwest and in Mexico. Antimicrobial it shows no effect for days, or sometimes weeks. A paralysis of the lungs then develops and a lingering death follows.

Beauty in Benevolence

How easy it is for one benevolent being to diffuse pleasure around him; and how truly is a kind heart a fountain of goodness making everything in its vicinity to freshen into smiles.—Irving.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Justice between men or nations can only be achieved through understanding and good will.—Jane Adams.

CAKES FOR SUMMER FETES

Many of the cakes which are so ornamental, that are served at weddings and receptions and other functions may be made in the home kitchen at much less cost. The small cakes to serve with a cup of tea or cocoa are no more than a good bite (bunni bouches) but are so attractive that their popularity never wanes.

For any such cake all materials should be of the best and measurements carefully made. All flour should be sifted before measuring and level measurements of all ingredients should be made. After baking, the cakes should be carefully cooled then packed away. Cakes may be made a week in advance of the time needed.

Sweethearts.—Cream two-thirds of a cup of butter and one-half cupful of powdered sugar together, add a teaspoonful of boiling water, one teaspoonful of vanilla, beat well, then add two eggs, one at a time and beat minutes after each addition. Now stir in three cupfuls of pastry flour gradually and when the dough leaves the sides of the bowl turn it out on a pastry table with one cupful of flour knead lightly; the dough must be smooth but not sticky to the hands. Place it back in the bowl and cover with a towel and let stand two hours. When ready to roll take out part of the dough and roll one-fourth inch thick. Cut with a heart-shaped cutter, place on baking sheets and bake slowly. Lay aside the trimmings for later use. Now roll and bake the remainder of the dough, reserving the trimmings. When the cakes are cold ice them, decorate with bits of fruit, or candied violets; any number of flower-like decorations make them most festive.

Baked Bananas With Current Jelly.—Loosen a section from the skin of each banana. Put bananas in granite ware pan, bake until soft. Remove the skins and roll in powdered macaroni crumbs. Surround with current jelly which has been beaten in boiling water. Thicken the sauce with a teaspoonful of butter and one teaspoonful of lemon juice.

Home spun Yarn. An egg yolk each day is good for the young child. Both washing soda and borax are useful to soften hard water. Always see that the water is boiling before putting in the vegetables. Teaching a child fear does not make him more cautious but hampers his development. Do not dry wooden kitchen utensils over a stove, because the strong heat may crack them. Grease stains which do not respond to soap and water should be treated with carbon tetrachloride, gasoline or some other grease solvent and then washed. Tomato paste is an excellent form of preserved tomatoes for use in winter soups, sauces, and scalloped dishes. It is made by spreading thick tomato puree on a plate and drying it.

CLINICS AT CARTHAGE AND WATERTOWN.

The regular monthly mental clinic conducted by the St. Lawrence State Hospital will be held in Carthage, at the Welfare Station, on Tuesday, October 16, from 9:00 to 4:00 p. m., and in Watertown on Wednesday, October 17, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., at the House of the Good Samaritan.

The purpose of the clinic is twofold—to serve as a consultation center for physicians concerning difficult cases of nervous or mental disorders under their care, and to advise those persons who are worried about their own condition or that of a relative or friend. No medical treatment is given, but should such seem advisable the patient will be referred to his own family physician with recommendations.

The clinic makes no charge and keeps its interviews absolutely confidential. It seeks particularly to reach those who find the normal adjustments of life difficult or irksome, for it recognizes such symptoms of discontentment as fore-runners of more serious trouble. There is no field in which it is more important to get advice early than in the one of mental and nervous adjustments. The clinic is not a stepping stone to the hospital. If made use of in time, it is the greatest possible preventive to such an end.

The clinic will be conducted by Dr. J. A. Pritchard, first assistant physician, and Clara E. Ellsworth, R. N., social worker.

Body Can Get Along Without Special Food

When John Overstep and Misses his morning orange or Junior gets away with hiding his spinach under the potato skins, don't have instant visions of lack of vitamins resulting in scurvy for one and rickets for the other, advises Miss Hastings, director of the food research laboratory of Physical Culture Magazine. "The human animal was not evolved on a basis that makes it needful for him to have a complete supply of every element his body uses three times a day, or even once a day," she declares in Physical Culture Magazine. "The body can endure for weeks without any food element, and some disease even may result from it. No doubt there are some elements on which we could exist on the store already in the body, for months or possibly years. I even suspect spinach might be eaten one month to correct the acid tendencies of eggs eaten the month before."

Forward-Looking

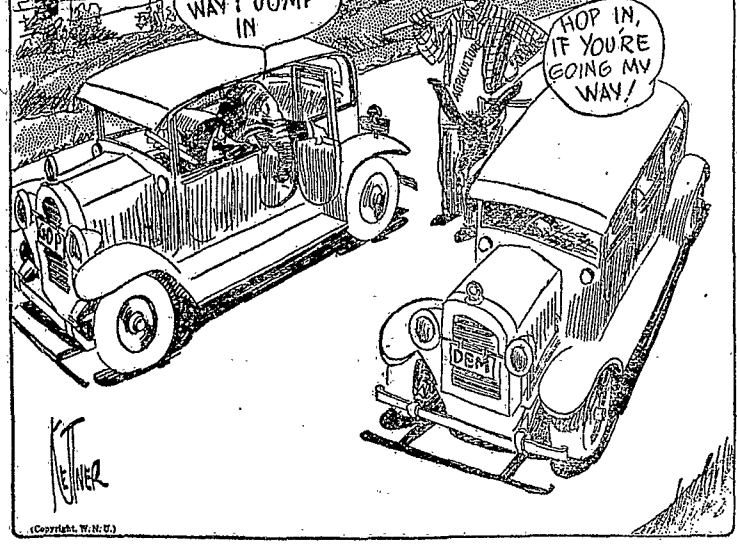

Wordsworth speaks of the "man of hope and forward-looking mind." The attitude that brings happiness and success in this strange and mysterious life is the attitude of the "forward-looking mind." After we are grown we should have sense enough to know that we are not going to live very long, but we should have vision enough to know, also, that life goes on, reaching steadily upward. Not far upward or quickly or drastically, but yet perceptibly. To make life in any sense worth living, to give our lives meaning and purpose and direction, we must have forward-looking minds. The belief in a better day is what makes possible and profitable the work of this day.—Grove Patterson. In the Mobile Register.

Around the House

The Up-to-date Clothes Chest. In making the house up-to-date and convenient, the clothes chest deserves its share of attention. The closet approved to-day is well lighted, provides hangers for clothing, storage space for hats and shoes, and is so arranged that every garment can easily be reached. The housewife no longer has to stoop in the corners for a lost shoe or bring all the contents of the closet to the floor when she takes out a dress. Clothes rods, which may be made of wood, hold the hangers and save space. Some large closets may hold two of these. For small crowded closets a sliding rod is likely to be more satisfactory since it may easily be pulled out when the housewife wishes to hang or remove garments. Such racks should be rust-proof and strong enough to hold the weight of several garments. When a closet is large enough, a set of built-in drawers or sliding trays is useful. A chest of drawers will serve the same purpose. Racks, shelves or shoe bags keep shoes in good condition and add to the order and convenience of the closet. The shelves may be just a little wider than the shoe length—about fourteen inches wide for men's shoes and about ten for women's. The simplest type of rack is of metal with an edge to catch the heel. This type is inexpensive. For shelves and walls enamel paint makes a smooth sanitary finish.

Minister Was Well Versed in Railroad Terms

The Rev. George R. Stuart, who for many years was pastor of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham, Alabama, and a favorite of the railway men of the South, offered the following prayer at a meeting of conductors and engineers a short time before his death: "O Lord, we meet as a body of railway men, with our wives and daughters to consult for our interests. We are reminded that life itself is a train and the road to Heaven is a railroad; God's truth the rails; God's love the fire; and this promises the signal lights. O Lord, we recognize Thee as the General Manager of our road, and our Chief Dispatcher. Thou didst survey that right-of-way and Thou didst lay the track and ballast the road. Thou hast furnished the rolling stock, and are the owner and controller of it all. We look to Thee for all our orders, and Thou must sign our checks for our daily bread. Be merciful in handling our human mistakes and blunders and do not discharge Thy unworthy servants. We are grateful for the Bible, Thy book of rules and instructions; be merciful in our examinations and look with charity upon our failures. Thy promises and warnings are our headlights and hand lanterns; help us to see them as they are, and we will train from wreck. Deliver us from broken rails, blind switches, false signals and mistaken orders. Be with us on every high bridge of responsibility, on every sharp curve of emergency and every weak trestle of danger. In every dark tunnel of trouble let the light of Thy promises shine bright. Grant us passes for our wives and children, and let them go with us. When the storms of temptation and trial come, save us from the fatal slide and washout that have wrecked so many trains on the road of life. Let our way—kept secure by Thy guardian care—always show the steel rail and rock ballast and be solid and firm and free from obstruction. Deliver us from the snares of our enemy. May the headlights of Thy truth shine bright on our way. When the storms of temptation and trial come, save us from the fatal slide and washout that have wrecked so many trains on the road of life.
