Crossed on Ice From Carleton Island April 28, 1895

A few days ago while conversing with the editor, Jacob Putnam got into a reminiscent mood and related many things that happened long ago, among which was the late crossing on the ice from Carleton Island. He said that on March 28, 1895, he and the late William Horne attended the ice boat races at Kingston, the trip being made with horse and cutter, and the route was around Mile Tree Point, where ice seldom forms. On April 24, in the same year, he and Mr. Horne drove from the island to the main land on the ice. This happened thirty-five years ago, and never since then has there been ice strong enough to cross on the late date mentioned in 1895.

Many View Eclipse Of Sun Monday

Our residents—or quite a few of them, at least—were out on Monday afternoon with smoked glasses to witness the eclipse of the sun which was plainly visible here. The eclipse came on at about two o'clock and continued until about four thirty. The sun was almost totally eclipsed at three thirty.
The last annular eclipse of the sun visible in Northern New York was in November, 1919, when the black ball of the moon moved directly across the sun's disc, leaving only a bright rim of the sun showing at the top. The last annular eclipse before that was in 1908.

TELEPHONE CO. HAS NEW EQUIPMENT

The Cape Vincent Telephone Co., of which John H. Grapotte is manager, has recently installed a new Stromberg Carlson switchboard. This piece of equipment is one of the latest types and will add much to the speed and service of the local company. Calls can now be put through quicker and the voices may be heard more clear and distinctly.
The new switchboard is equipped so that by making a few minor changes central could be called by merely lifting the receiver from the hook, but as many of the company's subscribers reside in the country, which would necessitate both systems, Mr. Grapotte has decided to continue the old method of calling central by ringing.
Another addition to the service is about a mile of new cable, which will enable the local exchange to serve many more patrons in the village.

Cape Team Is Getting Ready for Busy Season

Cold weather and snow prevented the practice games the Cape baseball team was to have played against Clarkson Tech. and St. Lawrence University last Friday and Saturday afternoons. The weather was better on Sunday, however, and Coach Gault had the squad at the fair grounds for a workout. About twenty players reported and after a warming up engaged in a practice game.
The local team made a good showing in the county league last year, and from present indications will do even better this season. Besides the regulars of last year, manager Gerard has signed up several other players who will greatly strengthen the team and enable the Cape to make a serious bid for championship honors.
To-day (Wednesday) the team is in Canton, where the postponed game with St. Lawrence will be played. The locals will be handicapped as several of their players will not be able to make the trip. However, it is expected that the game will be a good one.
On Sunday, May 4, the locals will play an exhibition practice game at Dexter. Dexter, winners in their division last year, has another strong team, and a good fast game can be expected.
The team is greatly indebted to J. L. Johnstone for the new warm-up jackets he recently purchased for them. These jackets are heavy, blue suede-cloth with a white monogram on the left side, and give the team a very pleasing appearance. With the addition of these jackets the Cape will not only be one of the strongest and best trained teams in the league, but they will also be the best dressed.

Lucas Talk Before Historical Club

On Saturday evening of last week the Improvement League Historical Society held a public meeting in the League room. The meeting, which will be the last one until after the summer months, was fairly well attended, and was a very pleasant affair.
The program opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. Charles G. Allen, "The Land of the Sky Blue Waters," and "The Moon Drops Low." After the singing of these songs Mrs. Charles Armstrong introduced the speakers of the evening, Charles H. Congdon, publisher of the Watertown Times, and E. N. Lucas, of Chaumont.
Mr. Congdon, who has been interested in "Indian digging" for some time, gave a very interesting talk in which he told a great deal about the Indians, their habits and customs. He had with him several Indian relics that he had dug up at various times and he displayed these, telling how they were found and describing the uses to which they were put by the Indians.
Following Mr. Congdon Mr. Lucas described the mounds at Perch Lake, telling of their shape, size and formation. He said the mounds were to be found in other parts of the country but as yet, none of them had yielded any trace of having been occupied. Mr. Lucas said he believed them to have been used as smoke houses and went on to explain his theory.
Following the talks by Mr. Congdon and Mr. Lucas the ladies served light refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

Population of Village Is 15 Less Than in 1920

According to the report of the census, just completed by Mrs. J. Henry Grapotte, the village of Cape Vincent has lost 15 inhabitants since January 1, 1920. The population two years ago was 913, and at the present time it is 898. There were four farms included in the village enumeration, as follows: John L. Johnstone, Frank J. Wiley, Jacob Putnam and John E. Rienbeck.
When the state census was taken in 1925 Cape Vincent had a population of 946. Since that time the loss has been 48.
The census for the district outside the town is being taken by Mrs. Roy Stanley and is not yet completed.

Robert Gault Heads Fire Department

The annual meeting of the Cape Vincent fire department was held last Thursday evening with a fair attendance of the members. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were rendered, and showed that the department was in first-class shape. The officers elected to have charge of the department were as follows: Robert Gault, Chief Engineer; Harry I. Allen, First Assistant; "Nick" Allen, Second Assistant.
At the regular meeting of the board of directors, to be held Monday evening, May 12, a secretary and treasurer will be chosen.
The fact that this show is free, is not the drawing card. The real, honest-to-goodness attraction is Edward White, the manager, who, when it comes to talking, has everything put in the discard. It is not merely talk that he deals out, but he gives some good, practical, every day, common sense, and in a way that creates no offense.
The object of the company is to sell the Franklin remedies, of course, but at the same time they give you an entertainment that is worth a half dollar of any man's money. They will sell you the medicine if you want it—if you don't, well, that's your business. You are invited to the entertainment, anyway.

—The many Cape Vincent friends of Jason M. Penn, of Watertown, sympathize with him in the bereavement he has sustained by the death of his wife, Josephine N. Raynor, curate of Trinity Episcopal church, officiating. Interment was made in Brookside cemetery.

Uncle Philander, Jr.

The local fire department held its annual meeting last Thursday evening and selected Robert Gault chief engineer, and as his assistants Harry Allen and "Ned" Allen were chosen. These men have seen service in the department for some time and are familiar with its workings, and I for one can see no reason why, under their direction, the efficiency of the department should not be sustained.
Of course, you are aware that the new officers can not do it all—they must have help. And to this end I say it is up to the residents to offer the firemen all the assistance they can. The boys stand ready to do all they can if a fire occurs at your home—so it is up to you to help the firemen in any way possible.
Well, I noticed that the Franklin free show got away to a good start Tuesday night, the Firemen's hall being filled almost to capacity. The company will be here for two weeks, and I predict a record attendance each night. In Cape Vincent, as elsewhere, a free entertainment usually draws the crowd.
