

News of Stage and Screen

Sheas Hippodrome

Gentleman's Fate, John Gilbert's latest starring vehicle, will be presented at Sheas Hippodrome beginning Saturday. On the stage topping the RKO vaudeville program, will be Violet Carson, and Signor Friscoe and orchestra.

In his new film, Gilbert again wears his mustache and immaculate clothes, although his role is that of a gangster who, despite a gentlemanly rearing, reverts to the blood of his family when a crisis arises.

Others in the supporting cast are Marie Prevost, Louis Wolheim, John Miljan, George Cooper, Ferike Boros, Ralph Ince, Frank Reicher, Paul Porcasi and Tenen Holtz.

On the stage, topping the RKO vaudeville program, will be vaudeville's laugh promoter, Violet Carson, in Just A Refined Noll and Signor Friscoe and his Famous, Guatemal Ensemble, marine orchestra. Other acts on the program will include Serge Flash, King of Rubber Ball Manipulators, Kirby and Duval, and Southern Gaieties, a singing, stepping retrospective of the old plantation, with Frank and Forman, Josie Carole, Bernice James and Forhan Boys, Herb Straub and His Gang will present another novel overture of popular melodies.

Gilda Gray, the World's most sensational dancer, who will appear, in person, in "Shaking the Blues Away," at Sheas Buffalo beginning Friday.

NORMA SHEARER at the Great Lakes beginning Friday

Olsen and Johnson, nut comics, who are featured in "Fifty Million Frenchmen" at Sheas Century.

Serious Mine Disaster Averted by Telephone

Although two men were killed when fire broke out recently in the Ellison shaft of the Homestake mine in South Dakota, a serious disaster was averted with the saving of the lives of scores of miners when the shift boss called each level of the mine by telephone, ordering each boss to call the roll of his men and to get them out of the mine.

The Homestake mine, considered the largest gold mine in the world, has a complete telephone system underground. The telephones are connected to the company switchboard. That switchboard in turn is connected to the nearest telephone central office.

Officials indicated that this telephone system probably averted a much more horrible disaster, involving the loss of many lives. The two men who lost their lives were trapped in an elevator cage in the Ellison shaft and were killed when the steel cable burned in two and the cage fell several hundred feet. The damage to the mining plant amounted to half a million dollars.

Sheas Buffalo

Sheas Buffalo will present another gala program of stage and screen attractions beginning Friday. Behind the footlights will be Gilda Gray, glamorous stage and screen star, in a personal appearance with a huge company of Broadway entertainers, in Shaking the Blues Away. On the screen will be Richard Barthelmess in the First National production Finger Points, with Fay Wray, Regis Toomey and Robert Elliott.

Miss Grey recently returned from London where she made a British picture for Duponts, called Piccadilly. It proved a sensational success in the British capital. Gilda Gray is now back on the vaudeville stage at one of the highest salaries ever paid an individual star. She has new songs, the best dances of her career and an elaborate wardrobe.

Included in the stage show, besides Benny Ross, that golden-voiced personality and Sheas Buffalo stage band, will be Ray and Harrison, mixed comedy team; Joe Griffin, tenor soloist and the Three Dynamos, sensational dance trio.

Sheas Century

Fifty Million Frenchmen, screen version of the whirlwind comedy which lately took Broadway by storm opens Thursday at Sheas Century. The scenes are all laid in gay Paris—a glorious mélange of dancing girls, wise crooking kidders, skidding taxis, sleight-of-hand performers, pussfooting detectives, gorgeously gowned sweeties and speeding race horses—a perfect setting for the astonishing love story of a young American millionaire she wagers fifty thousand dollars that he can in two weeks woo and marry a stunning girl he has seen but not met.

The girl in question is played by Claudia Dell. William Gaxton is the adoring lover. John Hildray and Lester Crawford are the two friends of the hero. Olsen and Johnson, the crueziest team on stage or screen, are cast as fake detectives. Helen Broderick is cast as a strong-minded tourist. Others in the cast include Carmelita Geraghty, Charles Judels, Nat Carr and Vera Gordon. An interesting program of screen novelities and a novelty organ recital by Herbert MacAhan will round out the bill.

The Lafayette

The playing of factual role in talking pictures by Edward Everett Horton is successfully carried out at the New Lafayette theatre this week.

In the risqué story of Lonely Wives high features besides Mr. Horton, La-la La Plante, Esther Ralston and Patsy Ruth Miller in conspicuous roles. Mr. Horton is seen as a divorce lawyer who works hard by day in his profession but when the clock strikes eight, he begins to "bloom." That is to say, his desire for the companionship of women other than his wife, obsesses him at night, especially when his wife is out of town for an indefinite stay.

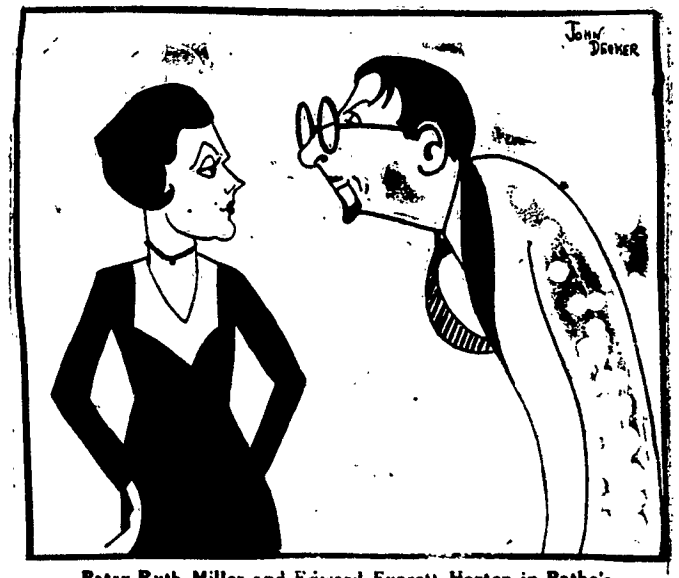

Carefully selected shorts and Harry Paul at the Wurlitzer complete the bill.

Sheas Bailey

Don't Bet on Women, comedy romance with Edmund Lowe and Jeanette MacDonald, will be the feature Saturday only at Sheas Bailey with children's matinee at 2 o'clock. Supporting the stars are Roland Young, Una Merkel and M. Kerrigan. Extra at the matinee will be the epic of the air, Wings, with Richard Arlen, Charles Rogers, Gary Cooper, and Clara Bow, and the sixth episode of the secret service serial thriller, Finger Prints with Kenneth Harlan and Edna Murphy.

Ruth Chatterton will be seen in her latest dramatic starring vehicle, Unfaithful, for three days, beginning Sunday, with matinee at 2 o'clock. It is an absorbing drama of the disillusioned wife of a public hero. Paul Lukas has the chief supporting role with Paul Cavagnagh and Juliette Compton, heading the cast. Added novelities and Nelson Sibley at the console of the grand organ will round out an attractive program.

Body and Soul which introduces the international screen and stage sensation, Elissa Landi, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday evenings. An interesting surrounding program of screen novelities also will be presented.

Patsy Ruth Miller and Edward Everett Horton in Pathe's "Lonely Wives" dramatic romance which will be shown at the New Lafayette Theatre, beginning Thursday, April 9. Don't Miss It.

BOY SCOUT STAFF HOLD MEETING

The staff of Camp T.-Wa.-Ya.-Ee of the Erie County Boy Scouts met last Saturday evening with James R. Colley of the Camp Operations committee and Executive N. M. Miles with dinner at Robert's Tea Room, Buffalo, at which time the program was planned for the camp of the coming season, opening on July 6th on Three Valley Nature Reserve. The well equipped 48 acre camp grounds of the Council out in the Holland Hills.

Among those invited to the meeting were: Alfred Spooner, who is to be in charge of the Headquarters Division this summer, with Robert Fuller as his assistant; Al-J Meyer Hurewitz, who will again be in charge of supplies. James Lees who will again lead the Buccaneers, and Craig Bliss who returns as his assistant.

Allan Lyford, coming back to Tl-Wa-Ya-Ee as Counsellor of the Foresters, after a summer's absence with the Niagara Falls council, John Cady coming to leadership as his assistant, after four seasons in the camp as a Scout.

C Theodore Lewis, who returns as Counsellor of the Indian Village and brings with him as his assistant Raymond Fadden of Norwich an Indian boy of whom Scouts at camp will come to know much more.

Howard Seltz of the Pioneers, and Dan Colley with Frank Beauvais of the Palmsmen Village all of whom are old timers and who have made names for themselves as leaders in previous scamps.

Hints For Homemakers

WITH fruits and berries plentiful and cheap, and sugar selling at a price as low as we have seen in a generation, this is the ideal year for special activity in home preserving. Put up in attractively sealed and labeled glasses and jars, jams and jellies will make inexpensive and deeply appreciated Christmas gifts for friends and relatives when the Yule season rolls around.

A few juniper berries, obtainable at the drug store, placed in a frying pan that has been heated until very hot, will release aromatic fumes which will quickly drive the odor of cooking out of the house.

Large Newspaper Collection
What is said to be the largest collection of newspapers in the world has been opened to the public in a newspaper museum at Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany. Among its collection of 150,000 newspapers are curiosities from all over the world, including an 18th century paper from the middle of last century.
