Sheas Buffalo

Enthusiastically welcomed by the public and press alike all over the country, Ethel Waters in Lew Leslie's "Rhapsody in Black," the symphony of blue notes, sets Friday as the second attraction of Greater Entertainment Season. On the screen will be Constance Bennett in "Two in the Leading Supporting Role, Charles Against the World," with Nell Hamilton Manning will lead the symphonic ensemble in an overture and "Herbie" will preside at the consuls of the grand organ. Never before has the negro entertainer been elevated to such artistic peaks as Lew Leslie, producer of innumerable editions of "Blackbirds," has accomplished with his latest offering minus scenery, chorus girls, comedians and the familiar trappings of the average Ethiopian hurdy-gurdy.

Shea's Century

"Congorilla," the much-heralded picture made by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, who also appear in it, will be the second attraction of Shea's Century Greater Entertainment Season, starting Saturday. The picture is said to be the greatest jungle picture ever made the first talking motion picture entirely made in Africa. Hundreds of unparalleled, thrills and sights are revealed, including gorillas in mortal combat a pygmy courtship, wedding and honeymoon with huge elephants, ferocious lions, and rhinoceros, and other wild animals as witnesses, a white woman narrowly escaping death from a charging rhino and a river alive with floating island of flesh and slithering reptiles. An interesting surrounding program, also has been prepared. The talking screen has never beheld so sensational a spectacle as that which "Congorilla" can boast. The backdrop of civilization is battered down and beyond it one sees sights no human eye has seen before. Three-foot humans and eight-foot monsters. The biggest thrill, however, was furnished by the sudden face to face adventure with fighting gorillas, ferociously fighting hand to hand screaming hysterically, within 20 feet of the sound recording camera.

Sheas Hippodrome

Barbar Stanwyck, one of the finest dramatic artists on the screen comes to Shea's Hippodrome, Saturday in her latest Warner Bros. picture, "The Purchase Price". An interesting surrounding program will also be presented. In "The Purchase Price," Miss Stanwyck portrays a night club singer who becomes a picture bride. Her adventures make a thrilling and exciting story it is said, which culminates in a series of swift moving adventures including a realistic one, during the filming of which Miss Stanwyck was burned.

Her role as the "Torch Singer" gives Miss Stanwyck an entirely new characterization, enhanced by her lovely singing voice which records so beautifully. She is surrounded by a capable and well chosen cast, headed by George Brent, the new test sensation who plays opposite Miss Stanwyck in the latest role of his career.

Sheas Seneca

Continuing its celebration of Shea's Greater Entertainment Season, Shea's Seneca this week brings to South Buffalo another outstanding array of attractions. Douglas Fairbanks Jr., in "Love is a Racket," with Frances Dee, Ann Dvorak and Lee Tracy, and Hott Gibson in "Spirit of the West," will be presented Friday and Saturday, with extra specialties at the children's matinee Saturday. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the screen's favorite sweethearts, will be seen in "The First Year," Sunday to Tuesday inclusive. The pair are said to be at their best in their latest vehicle for the screen. An interesting surrounding program will be offered, including Jack Haley in "About a Boy," Marie Dressler in "Movie Album Thrills," Goopy Gear, a merry melody cartoon, and Shea's Seneca News.

Street of World, featuring Kay Francis, with Roland Young, and "Night World," co-starring Lew Ayres and Mire Clarke, will be twin features Wednesday and Thursday. Street of Women is based on the successful novel of northern New York by Polan Banks. In addition to the two features, the program also will include Tom Howard in his newest comedy, What Price Air; and Shea's Seneca News.

Shea's Kensington

The current program at Shea's Kensington present stark drama and delightful comedy. The string circus drama "Freaks" with Wallace Ford and Lella Hyams and Stuart Erwin and Joan Blondell in "Make Me a Star" are the features. A Mickey Mouse cartoon and the latest news events complete the show. Friday and Saturday the double feature program includes "The Unexpected Father," amusing comedy with Slim Sumnerville and Zasu Pitts, and "Night World," cabaret drama featuring Lew Ayres, Mae Clarke and Boris Karloff. A Boy Friend comedy "Too Many Women" and short subjects are in the program and the 5th episode of "Heroes of the West" will be an extra feature for Saturday matinee. Six of filmdoms greatest comedians appear in "Million Dollar Legs" booked for Sunday and Monday, Aug. 28 and 29. "New Morals of Old" a story of parental love, with Lewis Stone, Laura Hope Crews, Margaret Perry and Robert Young and "Impatient Maiden," delightful comedy-drama will be the attractions Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1.
