Sheas Seneca

Will Rogers in his newest comedy, Down To Earth, with Buffalo's own Irene Rich and Dorothy Jordan, will be presented at Shea's Seneca Friday and Saturday, with matinee Saturday. In addition, on the same program, will be The Doomed Battalion, featuring Tala Bivell new screen find, Victor Varocini and Lulu Trenker. Added subjects also will be presented.

The fascinating which wild animals in their native habitat hold for picture audiences is said to have never been more clearly demonstrated than in Frank Buck's Bring 'Em Alive, which starts Sunday at Shea's Seneca. Frank Buck is a noted author, adventurer and wild animal maestro. Added subjects will include Filled Again, by members of the Thalian club, Achute Dazz, a sports champ reel; It's Got Me Agoin', a looney toon; Herbert MacAdhan at the grand organ and Shea's Seneca News.

George Arliss, the master actor, will be seen in his latest triumph A Successful Calamity, with Evelyn Knapp and Mary Astor, next Wednesday and Thursday. Arliss is said to exceed his portrayals of Diracl, The Millionaire and The Man Who Played God in his latest role. On the surrounding bill will be Joe Pennar in Torador; How I Hate To Get Up, a screen song; Cradles of Cuced, a traveltalk; Herbert MacAdhan at the console of the grand organ and Shea's Seneca News.

The Erlanger

Strange Interlude Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational film with Norma Shearer and Clark Gable is now playing to almost capacity house at the Erlanger theater. It is in every respect worthy of high place in screen achievements.

There is supreme artistry in the performance by Norma Shearer as the neurotic Nina Leeds, selfish, love-hungry, over-sexed daughter of a college professor; by Clark Gable as Dr. Darrell whom she loved, father of her son who always thought his dad was another; by Ralph Morgan, portraying Charlie Maradan, the role he had in the stage company; by May Robson as the stern unbending mother of the man Nina married, a part played by Alexander Kirkland, who also gave a good account of himself.

Shea's Kensington

Maurice Chevalier and lovely Jeanette MacDonald are appearing on the screen at Shea's Kensington in their latest and most delightful comedy drama with music Love Me Tonight, Benny Rubin in The Perfect Color is the comedy and a Fisherman Reel Color Scales is an attractive subject.

Comedy and drama will be presented on Friday's and Saturday's program with Chester Morris and Billie Dove in the comedy, the comedy Cook of the Air and Passport to Hell, stark drama, with Elissa Landi and Paul Lukas. Short reels are included in the program and Saturday matinee the first episode of the thrilling new serial Jungle Mystery with Tom Tyler will be shown.

70,000 Witnesses, something entirely new and exciting in the line of murder mysteries, is booked for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Oct. 23, 24 and 25 with a great cast including Charles Ruggles, Phillips Holmes, Dorothy Jordan Kenneth Thompson and Lew Cody.

Two great pictures will be shown Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Oct. 26 and 27 in The Washington Masquerade with Lionel Barrymore in a great role and Big City Blues featuring Joan Blondell and Eric Linden.

The double-feature program for Friday and Saturday Oct. 28 and 29 has Marion Davies in Blondie of the Follies and Ken Maynard in Texas Gun Fighter.

What's the matter Shirr Collins, why the absence from attending our court since you closed up your cottage in Canada.

Someone called up Ab. 5036 Monday night and the answer was. Yes, yes, she is here.

Shea's Great Lakes

What is probably the most expensive set in stage and screen history, comes to Shea's Great Lakes Thursday. Not only does the picture boast a number of well known screen names, but it also contains the entire roster of top-notch radio stars.

Bing Crosby, ad. act, with Stuart Erwin and Lela Hyams screen players head the cast. Kate Smyth, The Boswell Sisters, Burns and Allen, The Mills Bros, Cab Calloway and His Cotton Club orchestra, Vincent Lopez and his Hotel St. Regis orchestra, Arthur Tracy, The Street Singer and Donald Novis, silver-voiced tenor, head the radio cast.

Many may gather from the title that the picture is in the nature of a revue, but it distantly is not. Rather it is a human story of the secrets and events that happen in a great radio studio of the intrigues of station against station with an abundance of comedy, and through it all a down-to-earth, convincing love story.

Shea's Century

Madison Square Garden with an all-star cast headed by Jack Oakie, Thomas Meighan, Marian Nixon, William Collier Sr. Warren Hymer, Zasu Pitts, Lew Cody William Boyd and Robert Elliott will be presented at Shea's Century starting Friday. The story includes within its scope the whole penance life of the sporting world. Added subjects also will be shown.

With consummate skill, the authors and director of Madison Square Garden have re-woven the history of American sports and of Madison Square Garden, as well as the drama peculiar to the sporting element of modern life, into the immediate plot.

Sheas Hippodrome

Starting Saturday Shea's Hippodrome will offer us on all one program of RKO vaudeville in conjunction with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in their latest laugh riot, Hold 'Em Jail.

The thought of a prison football team is funny enough to begin with. But when it is carried out to the extreme when the entire prison is given, a college atmosphere with bands, cheering sections and an enthusiastic alumni with quaint and original methods of obtaining new gridiron talent, the basic idea easily becomes a laugh riot. Just how funny the whole non-sensical whim can be, will be demonstrated in Hold 'Em Jail.

Sheas Buffalo

William Powell and Kay Francis are seen together again in One Way Passage, which starts Friday at Shea's Buffalo. On the stage will be the smashing comedy hit of Zigfield Follies, Frank and Milt Britton Band, with Gene Gory and Tito and other acts. As a special added attraction, there will be Charlotte Ayres and Company in Black Art. Fred Schmitt will make his debut as conductor of the Shea Buffalo symphonic ensemble with an overture and Mr. and Mrs. Herbie will preside at twin consoles in an organ novelty.

One Way Passage opens in Hong Kong, on the eve of the vessel's departure, the action carries across the Pacific, stopping en route at Hawaii for a day, and moving relentlessly to its climax as the Golden Gate is passed. To obtain the maximum degree of realism for these steamship scenes, Warner Bros. chartered an ocean liner, complete with officers and crew and turned it into a floating studio for six days.

Ed Piniwski wants to join the S. P. C. A. He likes to serve water to stray dogs but he prefers to serve pet dogs.

S. L. V. Jr. gained plenty of tonnage this year. He just purchased a new gymnasium suit to replace that old one of last year.

If you care to have your lawn dug up look up Bill Mahaney. He is an expert in this line. He just dug up his 6x6 foot lawn in exactly 10 days. Joseph Jennett acted as timekeeper.

The other day Frank Hruby shot 5 out of 5 clay birds but he used Stanley Schwickers shot gun. He himself owns a left handed gun.

Upon looking up the typists family tree at the E. & C. office it goes back to Paul Revere days. Peek under the desk and you shall see.

Bill Brochagen's chest is swelled up lately. He thinks he is the best clay bird hooter in this burg. Just because he shot 19 out of 25 he thinks he is a champ.

Adam Omert will soon start touring the 5 and 10 stores to do his Christmas shopping.

Shirr Collins while on vacation dropped a line to polio headquarters. Here it is: Saw plenty of Oaklands stalled on the highway's but no Buicks.
