Lackawanna Wins Grid Title With Victory Over No. Tonawanda

Largest Crowd Sees Fisher Team in Brilliant Play 13-7. At Tonawanda Next Sat.

Lackawanna high school football team Saturday was crowned the new champions of Western New York by virtue of a brilliant 13-7 victory over the strong North Tonawanda eleven at the Stadium, before a crowd of nearly 5,000 fans, the largest to witness a scholastic contest throughout the section this fall.

The score does not indicate the manner in which the Steel City kids outplayed their most formidable rivals of the year to clinch the uppermost honors in local footballdom. They notched 11 first downs to their visitors 2, while keeping the play in their opponents territory through nearly every minute of the entire four periods. They came within an inch of scoring on several occasions while their own goal line was never seriously threatened with the one exception of when the Lumberjacks scored after an 80-yard run.

Lackawanna received the opening kickoff and ran it back to the middle of the field. They fumbled on the first play but recovered and a completed pass on the next attempt gained all of the lost ground. A penalty called on the visitors gave them a first down and then Coach Del Fisher's charges opened up with their battering ram offensive which has enabled them to carry the ball across the goal line within four minutes in every game this year.

Amorosi and Marcy hit the line for long gains and another first down and Korach slipped through on an off tackle play from the 22-yard dline, broke loose and with a beautiful exhibition of pen field running went over the line for the opening score. Marcy went around left end for the extra point.

North Tonawanda, received, was held and forced to kick. Lackawanna started good but lost the ball after a penalty. The visitors kicked again and the the Steel City aggreyation was off on another rush down the field only to lose the ball on the 3-yard line through a fumble when a score seemed certain. The locals had worked the ball back to the 8-yard linew hen the quarter ended.

The Lumberajcks line tightened up and held and they kicked to their own 45-yard line. But the Local gridders were determined and opened up with an offense that tore their opponents line to shreds, taking the ball to the 1-yard line with three first downs. Amorosi went through center for the six counter but try for extra point failed.

North Tonawanda received the kick-off on their own 30-yard line and it was their turn to showed their first signs of offensive power by scoring their lone touchdown of the half. They carried the next play however, and were forced to kickLackawanna recovered on the 20-yard line. Then they opened the S. much mopping and with less than two minutes to go, Jack Wallace, snappy quarterback for the visitors through chain offtackle play, got free and with two Lackawanna tacklers hanging on his heels galloped up the field for a touchdown. They decided the point after touchdown to close the scoring for the day.

While neither team scored in the closing half it was aplent with thrills, Lackawanna making many gallant attempts, which failed by a hair and the visitors frantically endeavoring to even the count, mainly by the aerial route. The Northa Tonawanda line showed well during this time holding several times for downs with their backs against their own goal posts.

Credit for victory can not be given to any one man or any few men on a team such as Del Fisher has rounded and every man has played his part well into shape. It is an eleven man team in bringing the Steel City team from a place of obscurity to win the grid crown of the district in three years. The most spectacular work of the game, however, was probably accomplished by backfield and Mortiff, Balbierz, Rusevi-Amorosi, Korach and Marcy in the van and Nizlol in the line.

In order to retain their claims to the championship untarnished the Steel City team must still overcome two powerful opponents, both of whom got off to bad start in early season games, but whose work has improved greatly of late. This Saturday Lackawanna will journey to Tonawanda to meet another Lumberjck eleven on their own field and the following week they will visit Jamestown to engage last years district champions.

Seek Advance On School Fund

Officials Will Visit Albany to Ask State Aid.

Prospects for at least one payday this month loomed ahead for Lackawanna school employees following a decision of the school board at a meeting Thursday evening to seek an advance of funds from the state. In compliance with this decision Berchmans J. Boland, superintendent of education and John J. Sullivan, attorney for the board, left for Albany today to confer with state authorities.

The state share of the cost of education in the city is nearly $160,000. Although payment to the city does not fall due until February it is believed that the state can be prevailed upon to advance its share because of the annual circumstances here.

Failure of the Bothlehem Steel corporation to meet tax payments following the $13,000,000 increase in assessed valuation, which is now being protested by the plant in the courts and the inability of many small taxpayers to meet their orbligations, is responsible for the depleted condition of both the school and city treasuries.

Even if the School board is able to obtain an advance from the state it will probably not mean more than one payday for techers and other school employees, it was reported. The reason being that unless the school is able to get a large part of it tax money within the next few weeks, over $130,000 of the state money would be kept to meet payments on notes and outstanding obligations which have to be met shortly.

It is also the belief of some officials that Lackawanna will not receive the state money until it is due. They hold that it would be a violation of the state educational law to make an advance.

Although approximately $51,000 has been collected, this amount can not be used to cover payrolls because of the immediate need for payment of $10,000 in bills, bond interest of $22,231.50 and bond amortixation which will fall due, it was stated.

BROADCAST BRINGS QUICK IDENTIFICATION

An emergency radio broadcast abetted by the alertitness of a Lackawanna detective last Thursday led to the identification of a local woman who collapsed in a Buffalo department store. Mrs. Elizabeth Hodgen, 213 Roland avenue, was the victim in the case who was taken to the Emergency hospital suffering severe hysteria to known to her relatives and Samuel C. Tuttle, 236 Milnor avenue, afriend of the family and a detective on the local police force, was the one who brought about her identification.

Mrs. Hodgen was shopping when she collapsed and was taken to the hospital. Hospital attaches were unable to identify her although she kept calling for Mina and Earl. This fact along with her description was sent out over Buffalo stations in an emergency broadcast which was heard by Detective Tuttle who recognized the description and the names as those of her daughter and husband and immediately notified Mr. Hodgen.

Mr. Hodgen is employed by the city and both he and his family are well known here. Friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. Hodgen's condition was reported as greatly improved by hospital authorities and that she was able to return to her home Saturay.

H. S. Will Play Benefit Game

Signed to Meet U. of B. Frosh on Nov. 28. Will Aid Charity Drive.

The thousands of Lackawanna football fans who have been waiting anxiously to learn if the champion Lackawanna high school eleven was to play another local game will becheered by the announcement made Wednesday by Clinton "Bud" Couhig, faculty director of athletics at the school, that they have signed up to play the University of Buffalo Frosh in a benefit game at the All-High stadium, on Saturday Nov. 26.

The game shows all the promise of being the classic of the seaon, at least as far as football in this district is concerned. That is, of course, if both teams maintain their unblemished record through their remaining games, which both seem quite likely to do. Coach Del Fisher's champs, have showed themselves to be superios to both their remaining opponents, Tonawanda and Jamestown, according to all pregame dope and the Buffalo yearlings should encounter little difficulty in chalking up a good margin over Depew next Saturday, in their lash scheddled game.

"Doc" Knapp and James Alfenger, U. of B. football mentors, abetted by some able assistants have developed the strongest Froh eleven ever to represent that school. They have conquered five of the strongest aggregations in this section thus far, without suffering a set back, something no other Bull team has done for some time.

Their record to date is as follows: Bulls 6, Niagara Frsh 0; Bulls 26, Tonawanda 0; Bulls 28, Hobart Frosh 0; Bulls 8, Lancaster 6; Bolls 13, Syracuse Frosh 7.

A good sum is expected to be realized from the game, the entire amount of which is to be divided between the two cities to be turned over to charity. The portion received by the local team will be given the Lackawanna Charity organizatino societies to help swell their annual drive fund while the amount receved by the U. of Buffalo team will be given the Mayors' Unemployment committee to aid needy in that city.

Local Voters Favor Change Democrats Carry Entire City

In a complete reversal of its 1931 stand when a Republican landslide swept over the city, Lackawanna went to the polls Tuesday and joined the remainder of the state and nation in its demand for a change by turning in an overwhelming Democratic majority on the entire ticket from President to sheriff.

In not a single instance did one of the thirteen Republicans voted on here near his Democratic rival in the number of votes received, the latter rolling up a 2-1 advantage throughout the entire state. This compares to the stand by local voters [illegible] Republican [illegible] 11 [illegible] when the [illegible] of the Third ward [illegible] remained solidly Republican.

Representative James M. Mead, always popular among Lackawanna voters as he is in fact throughout the entire 42d district, received the highest vote in the city. He polled 3996 as against 1436 for his Republican rival Henry Adsit Bull.

Col William J Donovan, gubernatorial candidate, proved to be the most popular G. O. P. nominee in the city running up a total of 1943. Hoover received 1705. Lehman still had a lead of 1592, however.

Frank J. Offermann, newly elected sheriff, also polled a big count here more than doubling his Republican rival Fred J. Robinson with a total of 3656.

Both the Socialist and Socialist Labor parties showed big gains over previous years. The S. L. P. candidates polled an almost equal vote throughout the entire ticket while the Socialist vote cast was more varied.

Norman Thomas, Socialist Presidential nominee, received a total of 269 which was nearly double that of any other candidate for that party.

The proposed $30,000,000 state bond issue for home and work relief was overwhelmingly approved by local voters who were almost equally divided on the proposed amendment to the state constitution to permit the use of forest preserves for recreational purposes.

A total of 2469 perons voted for the bond issue and 419 against it, giving the proposition a majority of 2050, for the city. The bond issue was endorsed by both major parties.

The vote on the amendment was not as large. A total of 995 voted in favor of it and 978 against it. It received strong opposition in many parts of the state and failed to carry Buffalo by over 33,000.

County Taxpayers Will Meet

Well Known Speakers Will Address Mass Meeting Nov. 17th.

For the first time in the history of Erie county, citizens from the towns and the cities will join in holding a mass meeting nor consideration of tax matters Thursday evening, Nov. 17. The meeting will be held at the Broadway auditorium at Buffalo, the use of which has been granted by the Buffalo Common council for the purpose. The meeting will be under the auspices of the committee of 108, a body composed of two delegates from each supervisor's district. There will be no admission charge.

More than 60 taxpayer's associations will be represented at this mass meeting. More than half of these are from the towns of Erie county. Cheektowaga as an instance has eight organizations whose prime purpose is the lowering of taxes while several others of the towns have two or more organizatins.

The date of the mass meeting, Nov. 17, is just two days after the day on which the Finance committee is to make its report on the 1933 budget to the Board of Count ySupervisors. One member of a special committee of the committee of 108 has been in constant attendance at all meetings of the Supervisors' Finance committee at the invitation of Chairman John M. Thiel of North Collins, and it is probable that coming the matters brought up at the mass meeting will be a report on the extent to which the estimates of 1933 expense by county departments have ben pruned by the committee.

Speakers of both local and national reputation will address the mass meeting and it is probable that resolutions will be preented bearing on Erie county and possibly New York State tax matters. Invitations to the meeting will be extended to county and town officials and the recently elected assemblymen and state senators as well as many members of Erie county and Buffalo to occupy positions on the stage with the speakers.

The officers' club will [illegible] home of Mrs. George N. [illegible] Friday evening, Nov. 11.

The chapter will hold [illegible] Tuesday N[illegible] and Mrs. Samuel D. [illegible] charge of the event.
