THE SPIRITUAL CLARION.

The heart is a cup which is empty till it overflows. We have nothing to enjoy till we have something to impart. He only lives who is not a reservoir, but a fountain.

Knowledge is not wisdom. A person may know, and yet have no claim to be called wise. Wisdom is practical application of that knowledge.

S. T. Munsen has opened a publication agency at the cheer-places, where he invites the liberal amount of all works pertaining to Spiritualism.

The change of editor when the journal of the Zealots of Spiritualism are arresting the attention of the best and wisest men, both in the New and Old Worlds. Any men and women of the old school have equally failed in their efforts to prove their folly or direct the public mind from their considerations.

Friends! read spiritual journals with such hearts that elevated spiritual teachings are not incompatible with increasing the funds of these distinguished men, will be sufficiently assured for them a large sale.
