Kisco GOP picks two candidates

By JOANNE BANN

A joint meeting of the Kisco Republican primary party was held last night, at which time the teacher Mildred Votava was announced as the candidate for the March 18 run for two seats on the Westchester County Board. The announcement of the choice was made by W. L. Russell, chairman of the Republican Committee.

The second candidate was named by vote by at-large members of the Republican committee who were present. Mrs. Margaret Johnson was chosen to contest the seat now held by Miss Elizabeth Locke. Miss Locke is a member of the Village Board, a member of the Republican committee, and is serving as a Village trustee.

The meeting was attended by 25 Republicans, including candidates and members of the Village Republican Committee.

Kisco, March 28 (AP)—The newly established drug center at the Kisco Volunteer Hospital has been in operation for the past two months. The center, which was opened in January, is equipped with all the necessary facilities for the treatment of drug addicts.

The center is staffed by professional and medical personnel, including doctors, nurses, and social workers. It provides a range of services, including detoxification, counseling, and rehabilitation programs.

Kisco Volunteer Hospital is a 100-bed hospital located in the town of Westchester. The hospital offers a variety of services, including inpatient and outpatient care.

The expanded facilities of the drug center are expected to bring much needed help to those affected by addiction in the community.
