Tribute to the Legion

CERTAINLY if any organization is in a position to recognize the value of mutual understanding between nations, it is the American Legion, declared William Matler Lewis, president of George Washington University, in an address on "Education for International Understanding" made before the National Educational Association at a recent meeting of that organization at Washington. President Matler continued: "The improved architecture in various parts of our nation, particularly in smaller communities, which their stay in Europe had upon our soldiers. Likewise, the improved sanitary conditions in the reconstructed districts of France bear testimony to the lessons learned from our troops." In referring further to the Legion, the noted savant stated: "It seems to me that one who would not go to the defense of his government in its hour of danger has no right to enjoy its benefits in time of peace. The Legion has that right."

50 YEAR OLD REINSMAN WINS 2.20 TROT WITH HIS $7.50 PLOWHORSE

Three years ago Bolt Reynolds of Washington, Pa., bought a plowhorse at public auction for $7.50. Recently Reynolds, who is eighty years old, drove that plowhorse, which he named Bernor, to victory in the 2.20 trot at the 72nd and Greene County Fair.

NEW THEATRE

"A Man of Action" Is a Fast and Funny Comedy Mystery.

A mystery comedy, sure fire, fast and funny, has been produced by Thomas H. Ince in his latest picture "A Man of Action" featuring Douglas MacLean supported by Marguerite De La Motte and Raymond Hatton, which will be shown at the New Theatre tonight. Laughs and thrills and love interest have been closely interwoven in this clever original tale that comes from the pen of Bradley King. There's a little love, a plot the picture fans can't guess until the end. With never a minute's let up, "A Man of Action" is accurately described as a "Movie that moves" Here's the plot in brief; Douglas MacLean plays a silk stocking youth with more dough than ambition. The girl he loves (Marguerite De La Motte) has enough pep for a whole boarding school. She drives him out to do something and he does! We'll say he does! He gets mixed up with a band of crooks who blackmail him into robbery of his own mansion. What a mix-up! Cops, crooks and kisses! Program also includes "The Hawk's Eye," chapter 3 of the chapter play of stirring events of early American life, "Leatherstocking," from the famous novels by James Fenimore Cooper "Topics of the Day" and "Fathe Review." Also on program is the special added Vaudeville attraction, "The Troubadors," of New York City, in a presentation of Symphonic Jazz.

A Stirring Photoplay of New York's Great East Side.

The special feature picture, "The Sidewalks of New York," by Willard Bradley King starring Hanna Lee, the child actress, supported by a hand picked cast of screen favorites, will be the special attraction at the New Theatre Saturday matinee and night. An intensely interesting tale of New York's East Side, portaying many of the types made famous by America's greatest short story writers—Bullies, gangsters, ward politicians, peddlers, loan sharks—a clever girl brought up on "The Sidewalks of New York," and a little wolf held captive by a brutal bully, who gets what is properly coming to him. Strength and weakness, honesty and treachery, humor and pathos. It's a story that grips the heart and holds one spellbound to the end. An exciting three-round prize fight between two girls is one of the many thrilling, red-blooded incidents in the story. In addition to the above the program includes a Hal Roach Comedy "Fast Black," and "Patho News 68" which sees and shows all.

PALACE THEATRE

Mix X Charmer in 'The Heart Buster'

Tom Mix is coming to the Palace Theatre Saturday, in a new William Fox western production "The Heart Buster." This picture is the richest in which Mr. Fox has featured Tom, and although the title sounds mushy you will find that the western star does not have to doff his spurs and chaps and become a gay Lathario to break the hearts of the girls.

In fact the hero has to throw caution to the winds and kidnap the Justice of the Peace and minister in order to prevent the girl he loves from marrying the villain. But the girls will sigh when Tom gets into action and finally lands in jail to be rescued by his wonderful little horse, Tony.

Despite the fact it is Tom's fiftieth, it is no fifty-fifty picture, but a real 100 per cent. sure-fire Mix knock-out. One of the kind that has made Mix the most popular western star of the silver sheet.

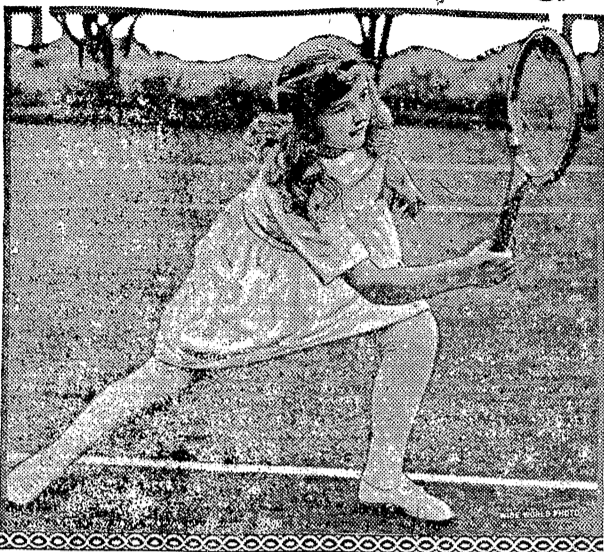

HILTON WILL GET TUXEDO EXPRESS

Honesdale, Pa., Aug. 25—Charles H. Hilton, who for many years has been the conductor of the Pullman on the Honesdale branch of the Erie from Lackawaxen, about the first of October is to have a new job. He has bid in the Tuxedo Express run which will necessitate his absence from home during the week. The conductor on that line, holding the job for 30 years, died recently and Mr. Hilton from seniority scoured the advanced position. While the chair car service will probably be discontinued by Honesdale it is expected such order will not go into effect for several weeks yet.

JUNKMEN HAVE BOUGHT RAILROAD

Auburn, N. Y., Aug. 28—Hopes and efforts of farmers between Auburn and Ithaca to save the "Ithaca Short Line" from the scrap heap were blasted with the announcement that the tracks and other equipment have been sold to a Syracuse junk company. Every pound of steel between Ithaca and Auburn, with two exceptions, will be junked, it is understood. The tracks and equipment have been sold to Rubenstein, Morgan and Cooper, of Syracuse.

England's Young Tennis Prodigy

England's newest tennis prodigy is Betty Nuthall. And Betty is a real prodigy, for she is only thirteen years old, yet her game is good enough to earn her the respect of such capable and experienced players as Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, Miss Elizabeth Ryan and other veterans who have been in the limelight of the tennis world for years. Mrs. Mallory has called her a "wonderful little player." In the recent Middlesex championships played on the courts at Chiswick, Betty fought her way through the first two rounds and in the third round found herself facing the redoubtable Molla, who was a star on the courts before Betty was born. Mrs. Mallory took the first set, 6-1, while Betty was getting warmed up, but in the second set Betty was going great guns, and she gave Molla a battle that had the spectators cheering and acting roughly with their hats. She carried the game to six all, but could not stand the pace, and Mrs. Mallory won, 8-6. Betty is a sturdily built girl, with golden hair that hangs down her back, and she admits that she "loves to play the game" and enjoys "playing before a crowd." English tennis enthusiasts expect that Betty will develop into a British Helen Wills or a French Suzanne Lenglen and confidently predict she will be winning the world's championships by the time she is twenty.

FISHERMEN HAD EXCITING EXPERIENCES

On a fishing trip to Hick's Pond in Greene township, Pike county, Mr. Nobo, and Mr. Meyer of Scranton and Mr. Goerlitz of Roemerville certainly had a very exciting adventure.

They were parking their auto in the barn on the old Franz Wolff place, when a rattlesnake with head and tail erect, and coiled ready for action, greeted them. They lost no time in killing the reptile, which measured nearly four feet and sported eleven rattles.

Proceeding along the path to the pond, Meyer and Nobo, who were some distance ahead of Goerlitz, got the fright of their life. They had just reached the edge of the pond, when they spied a big black bear coming towards them. Meyer who is into the boat and paddled for dear life out on the pond, while Nobo shined up a tree. The bear then stood calmly looking at the men. When Goerlitz, an ex-policeman of 31 years' experience with desperate and ugly customers in Scranton, came up Ernie made a getaway so quickly that Goerlitz did not even get a glimpse of him. Things again calmed down and the men were quietly fishing from the boat, when Goerlitz startled his companions with the exclamation: "Well, I'll be—!" if there ain't an old cow swimming in the pond." But instead of its being a cow, it was a large doe deer, and on the bank nearby frisked two fawns. The men were surprised that the deer were so tame—they got close enough to get a good look at them. The men caught a fine lot of fish. Meyer hooked a large pickerel and just as he was going to land it, away went the fish with part of the line.

KANSAS DEMOCRATS OPPOSE KU KLUX

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 27.—The Ku Klux Klan has flared up as one of the major issues of the November Democratic party of the state opposed to the secret organization and the Republican party silent.

Following the lead of their national standard bearer, John W. Davis, in denouncing the Klan, by name, the yesterday adopted a plank openly condemning the order.

The Republican state party council in drafting a platform made no reference to the Klan, despite a spirited fight waged by Attorney General C. B. Griffith and others. Griffith was opposed for renomination in the recent primary by Klansmen because of his suit on behalf of the state to oust the Klan from Kansas. He won the nomination, however, by a large majority. Lieutenant Governor Ben S. Paulsen, Republican nominee for governor who had the endorsement of the Klan in the primary, was one of the party leaders opposing mention of the Klan in the state platform.

Governor Jonathan M. Davis presented the anti-Klan plank with the Democratic gathering and urged its adoption. A resolution lauding the Klan for its stand on law enforcement was voted down by the Socialist party gathering. The Socialists voted to throw their support to LaFollette and Wheeler, but to continue the party organization intact in the state.

"DON'T MOVE DADDY, YOU LOOK SO FUNNY"

Daddy certainly does look funny peering over his reading glasses every time he wants to see objects more than a few feet away. Thousands of men and women are in the same "fix". They, too, wear glasses for near vision only.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

combine NEAR and FAR vision in one lens. Through the lower part you can read the smallest print; through the upper part you can see distant objects with equal clearness. Their surfaces are clear, smooth and even, which give them the appearance of being single-vision glasses. KRYPTOKS (pronounced Kryptok) render unnecessary the continual removing of your glasses—the over-top pouting—or fussing with two pairs. They keep your eyes young in looks as well as in usefulness.
