SWAN ON HIS TRAVELS MAKES DISCOVERY

That Man’s Weakest Point Is His Vanity Which Accounts for Unusual Politeness.

Traveler Provides Comforts for Passengers—Almost a Palace—Small Details—Sleep Better in Upper Berth.

By WILLIAM B. SWAN

It was a ten-cent seat at the back. But ten cents the night is the fair price for a place of comfort. So it is no wonder that the famous Pullman car is so popular. It is a place where people can have a good sleep, and a good seat, and a good view, and a good time. And at the same time, they can have a good meal, and a good drink, and a good smoke, and a good drink, and a good smoke, and a good meal. And at the same time, they can have a good time.

The Pullman car is a place where people can have a good time. It is a place where people can have a good time. It is a place where people can have a good time. It is a place where people can have a good time.
