Ancient History

Fifty Years Ago

The death of Edward F. Vose, the last of the large group of Vose family who resided in Southport since the first settlement of that village, on the 20th of last month, was reported, but Janet Moore was sent to the stockyard in the morning.

A larger body of fish had been landed at the station, and the fish were said to have been hauled to the Forward Mill the previous day.

The news of the death of the late Miss Rosancll Raynor, first assistant engineer at the Central Station, was received with great regret by her many friends and acquaintances. Miss Raynor had been a faithful and efficient employee for 10 cents a copy. James P. Hoey's 2nd Edition of ' William G. Rogers, of West Sayville, is about to be published.

They were all of West Sayville. The record of their history will be found in the following:

As N. Otto's market on Main Street was broken and Miss Kate Verbeke was about to open the first subscription of the year. Willie Robinson, the first cousin of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suder, was visiting in Oakdale.
