Englewood, Florida

By Leona Barnes

I was glad to hear that the Army Corp. from Fort Drum, in Watertown, were in Osceola repairing the temporary bridge in Osceola over the Salmon River.

Here at the Health Care Center in Englewood, we had lots of visitors in spite of the foggy mornings and the construction on the highways in this area. The roads are being repaired for widening in the future. Here at the center we have some new developments.

Harrington, Bertha Brown is 90 so she is the oldest resident. Mr. and Mrs. Bentley have been married 60 years. Mr. and Mrs. Heyn have been married 50 years. John Priest of Brook To Bay got word from Michigan that one of his nieces had been in the hospital seriously ill. But thank the Lord she is home again.

Genevieve Priest has had an infection but is slowly gaining. Your correspondent has been slow with the news due to her health. The cold is mostly better but the asthma and other problems have slowed her down. But we still have so much to thank the good Lord for.

Our morning temperatures are in the 60's and in the afternoons it gets in the 80's. But we sure do need rain.
