Harry T. Seaman, 68, Victim of Ambulance, Auto Crash Monday

Herkert street, three times on Brookhaven home highways during the past week, on Saturday at Ridge, where a young girl was finally injured when an ambulance struck her with its cars at the entrance to the Brookhaven town highways. The accident occurred at a median strip in a car in which she was driving, 17-year-old Miss Seaman was killed in an ambulance crash at Wantagh and a Center Moriches hospital, Port Jeff, and a Center Moriches hospital, Port Jeff.

The ambulance was driven by Joseph J. Genthner, 26, center Moriches, who was found dead at the scene. Miss Seaman was killed in an ambulance-automobile crash at Medford and a Center Moriches hospital, Port Jeff. The ambulance was driven by Joseph J. Genthner, 26, center Moriches, who was found dead at the scene.

Central Public Service company of New York, which operates the ambulance, had many large manufacturing plants in the area and suffered considerable damage to its facilities. The ambulance was equipped with the latest in emergency medical equipment, which was found to be in working order when the accident occurred.

Mr. Genthner was a long-time employee of the company, having worked for a number of years with the ambulance service. He was a valued member of the staff, and his loss will be deeply felt by all who knew him.

Two More Faculty Vacancies Filled; One Position Open

The appointment of two new teaching faculty members has been announced. The new appointments will be effective at the start of the fall term. The first position, which will be filled by a new assistant professor of English, will be available immediately. The second position, which will be filled by a new associate professor of History, will be available in the spring term.

Two new teaching faculty members have been appointed to the faculty of the Patchogue Town School System. The appointments will be effective immediately.

Proposal to Curb Dogs in Town Hit; No Action Taken

The Brookhaven Town board rejected a proposal to curb dogs in the town. The proposal, which was introduced by Councilman John Smith, was defeated on a 3-2 vote. Councilman Smith had argued that the proposal was necessary to control the number of dogs in the town and to ensure the safety of the public.

ACCORDING TO PLANNING BOARD

Town Population Now 57,000

A study of the population of the town conducted by the Planning Board. The study found that the town population had increased by 5,000 in the past year, bringing the total population to 57,000. The study also found that the town had a relatively low unemployment rate and a high per capita income.

The report, which was signed by the members of the Planning Board, recommended that the town government take steps to ensure the continued growth and development of the town.

The report also recommended that the town government consider the development of new areas for industrial and commercial use, in order to attract new businesses to the town.