CEREBRAL PALSY GROUP IS GIVING $500 DONATION

In an impressive ceremony, Master George Sorel and Technical Sergeant Lawrence M. O'Connell of Patchogue, were presented with the Malachi R. Browne Award on Thursday afternoon at the Patchogue City Auditorium. The ceremony was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were presented with a large silver plaque on behalf of Mrs. Mary T. Brown, wife of the late Malachi R. Browne, the first executive director of the Patchogue Cerebral Palsy Center.

The ceremony was held to honor the memory of Malachi R. Browne, who served as the first executive director of the Patchogue Cerebral Palsy Center for 15 years. He was instrumental in establishing the center and ensuring its success.

Robert G. Ostrander has been elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the Patchogue Cerebral Palsy Center, through a special election held on Thursday afternoon. Ostrander is a long-time supporter of the center and has previously served on its board of directors.

The Patchogue Cerebral Palsy Center, which was established in 1965, provides services and support to individuals with cerebral palsy and their families. The center offers a variety of programs, including special education and therapy services, and is committed to improving the quality of life for those affected by cerebral palsy.
