

Men of the 27th We Welcome You!

You are sure lucky—lucky to have been able to get “Over There”—and darned lucky to get back safe. We welcome you!

What Are Your Plans for the Future?

If you have a good job waiting for you, we are going to pass you up, and wish you success and prosperity. But if you haven't a job waiting for you and want an opportunity to work and “make good,” we are ready to help you get properly placed in civilian life.

In addition, we can use several hundred of you boys in our own organization. Discharged men from every branch of the Service are “making good” in our Circulation Department. Most of them never had previous experience, but they really wanted to work and TREAT 'EM ROUGH offered them the opportunity.

Practically every member of our staff has seen “service” either at home or overseas. Every branch of the Service is represented. That is why we understand his feelings and want to be of real help to every service man who is mustered out without a job.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH magazine is not a commercial proposition. It is published in the interests of American fighting men and their backers. A share of its profits is devoted to the fellow in uniform who is temporarily out of luck—S. O. L.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH does not offer charity. That would be an insult. But it does offer a chance to work and an opportunity to “make good.”

We, therefore, extend to you a cordial invitation to visit our offices and to have a talk with the manager of our Circulation Department, Room 1613, 220 West 42nd Street.

Below you will find a TREAT 'EM ROUGH subscription blank. Fill it out yourself and become a subscriber, or get some friend to fill it out and send it to us.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH is your opportunity.
