Star attraction

The Chicago Bulls should call the Chicago Bears Monday night. "Here comes Mr. Jordan," the Bears said, "and they better take a good look, because he's a right-handed pitcher." Michael Jordan will be in town and the Bears are expecting a sellout.

Jordan, the star of the Chicago Bulls, will be in town for the Bears-Browns game. The Bulls are scheduled to play at Soldier Field Monday night at 8:30.

Jordan is scheduled to play in the game as part of a promotional campaign for the upcoming NBA season. The Bears have been on a promotional tour of the United States, but Jordan's appearance is expected to draw a large crowd.

The Bears are coming off a disappointing season, finishing last in the NFC West with a 3-13 record. However, they hope to turn things around this year with the addition of Jordan to their roster.

Seahawks catch Broncos

By United Press International

Dave Krieg passed for 466 yards and five touchdowns Sunday as Seattle defeated San Francisco 52-24, and collected 131 yards in receptions against the San Francisco 49ers.

Krieg, who is starting his second year with the Seahawks, completed 24 of 38 passes for 462 yards and five touchdowns. The Seahawks won their third straight game and improved to 6-4 with the victory over the 49ers, who fell to 4-7.

Simms saves Giants

By DAVID RAPPORT

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — Trailing 27-14 with 7:30 left, the Giants turned over the game to quarterback Phil Simms, who completed 10-of-16 passes for 70 yards and two touchdowns in a 32-27 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Sunday at the Meadowlands Garden.

Simms, who took over for an injured Carl Banks in the fourth quarter, led the Giants to the winning touchdown on a 2-yard TD pass to Bobby Brown with 1:06 left. The Giants improved to 7-3 and the Rams fell to 5-6-1.

Simms, who had 18 completions for 277 yards, said he was "surprised" to be taking over the game in the fourth quarter.
