Of Local Interest...

Mrs. Jessie Bailon is spending this week in New York as guest of Mrs. Alfred C. Bates, Jr. and Mrs. Charles M. Yelling, and is visiting friends in the city and the suburbs. She has returned to her home on Bedford Street after recently spending a week at her home of her own in Connecticut.

John Martinson is the Southernmost man in the United States suffering with pneumonia.

The comical men were in tap-erhing and barking dogs and maiming them with the fervor
of their annual survival.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Bloydy are attending the funeral of Mr. Bloydy’s brother, W. F. Bloydy, who was killed in a Dublin,
Ireland, accident.

Mrs. Julia Ostrovsky attended
an operation in the Southwestern Hospital last week.

Mrs. Angelo Selvadurai is recovering after a siege of "that something,” which Thora Wheat and Mrs. S. Beale have returned to their home on Huntington Avenue after recently spending a week at her home of her own in Connecticut.

John Martinson is the Southernmost man in the United States suffering with pneumonia.

The comical men were in tap-
erhing and barking dogs and
maiming them with the fervor
of their annual survival.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Bloydy
are attending the funeral of
Mr. Bloydy’s brother, W. F. Bloydy,
who was killed in a Dublin,
Ireland, accident.

Mrs. Julia Ostrovsky attended
an operation in the Southwestern Hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D’Amato are visiting in the city and the suburbs.

Mrs. Jessie Bailon is spending this week in New York as guest of Mrs. Alfred C. Bates, Jr. and Mrs. Charles M. Yelling, and is visiting friends in the city and the suburbs. She has returned to her home on Bedford Street after recently spending a week at her home of her own in Connecticut.

John Martinson is the Southernmost man in the United States suffering with pneumonia.

The comical men were in tap-
erhing and barking dogs and
maiming them with the fervor
of their annual survival.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Bloydy
are attending the funeral of
Mr. Bloydy’s brother, W. F. Bloydy,
who was killed in a Dublin,
Ireland, accident.

Mrs. Julia Ostrovsky attended
an operation in the Southwestern Hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D’Amato
are visiting in the city and the suburbs.