It's Play Day

Come play with me, at the new $900,000 South Avenue Open Space and Recreation Project which is now officially open.

The 8-acre center is opposite Highland Hospital, at 999 South Ave., next to the new School 12, and will serve the school, neighborhood and community at large, embodying the entire Inner-Cities.

The newly appointed director of the recreation center and staff are anxious to have your likes, become this is your recreation center. Serving all ages, from 2 to 90, the new facility can accommodate various groups at one time without opening up the entire school.

The center will offer children's play apparatus, a sandbox, an ample-Counter for story-telling and dramatics, which can be converted into a spray pool, two baseball fields PLAY DAY [See page 7]

Tickets For Children

Underprivileged children will be able to attend Buffalo Braves Basketball games as guests of public spirited citizens in a unique new program announced by the Buffalo Braves, Erie County Parks and Recreation Department and Dateline.

Announcement was made at a press conference.

Announcement was made at a press conference at Memorial Auditorium by Paul Snyder, Buffalo Braves vice president in charge of sales, Vice President Bob Rubin, Dateline, Thomas M. McKiernan, Commissioner, Erie County Parks and Recreation Department, to be used for children who wouldn't be able to see Jo Jo Bynard, and Jack Carey.

Under the plan, Dateline Buffalo Branch will cooperate with appropriate agencies in Buffalo this week by George Saunders, Vice President, Ralph Dateline, Buffalo Branch Manager.

The "Tickets for Children," program is part of a Dateline Braves ticket program in which fans can obtain free basketball games tickets by saving coupons from Dateline with cashiers.

In addition individual, and group tickets are available at all locations of Dateline Buffalo Branch. Tickets will be presented to the

I LOVE YOU, GRANNY —

Ms. Ruth Whitehead, mother of seven and grandmother of seven, The Criterion's Rochester Granny of the Week. This vibrant and debonaire Granny is very active in Holy Trinity Baptist Church on North St., Rev. M. L. Daniels, pastor. Besides singing in the choir of her church, she is active in many other community interests.

Ms. Whitehead is kicking off our campaign to photograph the beautiful people, Grandmothers. Let us photograph your grandmother, send us a picture and story, anyway. Call 252-7961 or write to:

My Granny
