That the presents were chosen by Mrs. Bruce Crauson and Mrs. James Hall is sufficient to state that they were appropriate and considerate. Rev. C. E. Conroy offered the opening prayer and made a few fitting and appropriate closing remarks.

PARCELS POST ON JANUARY 1ST

The Parcel Post mailing system goes into effect January 1. According to the regulations governing the parcel post system, promulgated by Postmaster General Hitchcock, perishable articles may be sent through the mails only under specific restrictions as to their containers and the distance they are to be sent. Butter, lard, fish, fresh meats, dressed fowls, vegetables, fruits, berries and similar articles likely to decay quickly, may be sent for short distances when securely packed. Eggs will be accepted for local delivery when packed properly in a container, and for any distance when each egg is separately packed in a perfectly secure manner.

No restriction is placed on the mailing of salted, dried, smoked, cured meats, but fresh meats will be transported only within the first zone.

Fragile articles, including millinery, toys, musical instruments and articles of glass, in whole or in part, must be securely packed and marked "Fragile."

Articles that may not be sent by parcel post include intoxicating liquors of all kinds, poisons, poisonous animals, insects or reptiles; explosives of every kind; inflammable articles, including matches, internal medicine, poisons, inflammable disease germs, any obscene, defamatory or scurrilous matter now prohibited by law; live or dead animals, or birds, or live poultry; raw hides or pelts; or anything having a bad odor. Books and printed matter may not be forwarded at parcel post rates, but only on parcel rates of third class matter.

The rate per pound post packages varies with the distance same is to be applied. There are nine zones in the United States. The rates are much less than now charged by express companies, and the latter will probably reduce their tolls accordingly.

Four Per Cent on Small Accounts.
The Monroe National Bank will on January 2nd, 1913, receive interest accounts for which pass books will be issued in the same manner as do the savings banks and trust companies. The operation of the certificate plan has demonstrated the need of such a system whereby small savings may be deposited from time to time and draw 4 per cent compound interest.

The bank has now outstanding nearly $100,000.00 on certificates of deposit which prove the need of this form of banking in this community. The new interest department is to be an addition to present facilities and will not affect the certificate plan which will be continued on the same basis. It is hoped by the directors that the new interest department will prove as successful as the certificate plan. This new system will enable the people of Monroe and vicinity to save money in small amounts and thereby in time prosperously provide for adversity.
