and ‘Undercurrent’

Next at Shea’s

‘It’s In The Bag,’ hilarious co-mining his current Fred Allen, Jack Benny and ‘Rochester’ will be

and Sat., with matinee Sunday at 2 p.m. On the same program will be ‘She Went To The Races,’ featuring James Craig and Frances Fairchild.

Robert Taylor and Katherine

Hepburn are co-starred for the first time in ‘Undercurrent,’ which will be shown at the Lackawanna

Fri. and Sat., with Robert Mistumn leading the supporting cast.

Unfolded with considerable improvement and mounting step by step into a terrific cli-cmax, ‘Undercurrent’ starts with the romantic meeting and subsequent marriage of Ann Hamilton

(Elizabeth Taylor) and Alan Gar-way, wealthy young industrialist.

The marriage at first gives promise of being a happy one, but gradually and inexorably there hovers over the young couple the shadow of Alan’s brother, Michael Garway.

What happened to Michael? If he is the villain reputed makes him, why are there so many fonda undercurrents, connected the times of his personality?

I asked love with Alan when she married or with Michael whom he so very well? These are the questions which form the framework of a narrative which stirs the spirit toward our hearth and the Chamber of Commerce.

The stars are given admirable support in the work of Robert Mitchum as the elusive Michael,

Edmund Gwenn, playing Miss Hey-burn's inventor-father, and Mar-ric Main as the family servant who does her best to marry Miss Heyburn off. The picture also furnishes the imaginative introduction to the screen for two players, from the Boulevard stage — Jayne Meadows and Clinton Sundberg, both of whom are destined for motion picture prominence.
